U.S.-Cambodian Talks Due Shortly

Sanctuary Issue Involved

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to accept promptly Prince Norodom Sihanouk's indirect suggestion of U.S.-Cambodian talks over the issue of Communist Vietnamese use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

Cambodia's chief of state, describing his country as "caught between the hammer and the anvil," said he would welcome an envoy from the President to discuss the situaion. Speedy dispatch of such a U.S. spokesman appeared likely.

Sihanouk's statements were published today in a copyrighted Washington Post story based on his replies Thursday to questions posed by Post correspondent Stanley Karnow.

In response to other questions put by Karnow, in a cable, Sihanouk said he would not intervene militarily to stop U.S. troops from entering certain sections of Cambodia in so-called hot pursuit of North Vietnamese or Viet Cong forces.

U.S. officials were reported surprised and pleased with this statement, which came only a week after the prince spurned a U.S. bid for joint efforts to stop Vietnamese Communist use of neighboring Cambodia as a sanctuary.

At that time, Sihanouk denounced the United States and all but branded it an aggressor in Southeast Asia.

Speculation was Johnson most likely would send Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador-at-large, to talk with Sihanouk. In the interview, Sihanouk made clear he also would welcome Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, whom he described as a "just and courageous man..."

But he said if large Communist units are in fact entering Cambodia "and if limited combat breaks out between American and Vietnamese forces, both illegally in Cambodia, it goes without saying that we would not intervene militarily."

While stating he wouldn't send Cambodian forces against troops crossing his border in hot pursuit actions, Sihanouk added:

"However, if serious incursions or bombings are committed against our border regions inhabited by Cambodians ... I declare very clearly that we would not hesitate to strike back as strongly as possible with aircraft, tanks and infantry."

And in the case of aggression, he said, Cambodia would demand increased military aid from Red China and the Soviet Union "in particular."

He said Cambodia would not tolerate the crossing of its borders by troops from South Vietnam, which he called "our traditional expansionist enemy." He said he had learned the "Pentagon is considering the employment of the Saigon army for eventual incursions into our country."

Despite Sihanouk's expressed doubts, U.S. officials believe Communist troops by the thousands make periodic use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

The use of these sanctuaries is viewed in Washington as a matter of major military importance.

President Johnson's advisers are reported split on whether the United States should use "hot pursuit" and search-and-destroy tactics against the enemy hideouts beyond the South Vietnamese borders.

Some State Department and other civilian officials say privately they believe the cost would be too high in terms of worldwide political reaction, but military men say the problem will have to be met.

The dominant Washington view at the moment appears to be that if Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot get a diplomatic solution—at a minimum some understanding with the government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk in Cambodia—President Johnson will have to decide in the first months of the new year what U.S. military action may be taken.

This issue, which carries the risk of expanding the war in Southeast Asia in 1968, is one of various unpredictable possibilities of the new year. Another is the outlook for peace—or at least peace talks.

On this question U.S. officials have been intrigued for several weeks by intelligence reports coming out of an area of South Vietnam, reportedly south of Saigon, that the Communists have been telling villagers the fighting would end in February.

But a check of authorities here brings information that the report has come from only one area of South Vietnam and it is therefore not taken too seriously. It has not figured in captured documents or prisoner-of-war information—as has the Communist "fight and negotiate" theory and discussion of forming a coalition government in South Vietnam with both Communist and non-Communist elements.

Pen Pals Get Together Here

A Holy Land 'Surprise'

PENNY'S PEN PAL. Kahlid El Jinini of Jordan, left, and Penny Heiney of Smithfield St. glance at some of the letters which they have exchanged over recent months prior to his unannounced visit here this week.

A two-year pen pal friendship between a city college student and a Jordanian resulted in a surprise meeting Wednesday night at her home on Smithfield St.

Penny Heiney of 1836 Smithfield St. is a student at Ohio State University, studying teacher education for science and art. While at college she became friends with Ibrahim Jinini of Jordan. When he returned home, Penny began writing to his younger brother, Kahlid El Jinini, discussing politics, marriage customs and dating customs and the ways teen-agers in the two countries differ.

Earlier this year before the war between Israel and Jordan broke out, Kahlid wrote a letter to Penny. She was a little slow in answering, and when she did, she received no response — by then the brief war had occurred between the neighboring countries.

By Wednesday night, Kahlid had traveled from his native town of Salt through Beirut, Istanbul, Paris — where he lost his luggage — New York, to Canton, by train, and by bus to East Liverpool. He realized what he termed an "impossible" dream of coming to America to see Penny.

PENNY, WHO was out when Kahlid arrived, came home quickly when she was notified. It was a great surprise for her to find a visitor from Jordan standing in her living room.

Thursday she and Kahlid bought clothing to "tide him over" until the Parisian air lines locates his clothes. During a "confab" into the wee hours of the night Wednesday, the two compared notes about their countries and customs, and found, much to their amazement, young people are alike the world over.

Kahlid, 19, is the son of a candy merchant, Abdel-Fattah Jinini, in Salt, about 25 miles from Amman, Jordan's capital. He has four brothers—two of whom work for the government, one in a bank and another in the insurance business — and two sisters, one a homemaker and the other a teacher.

Humphrey Taking Off For Africa

Wife Accompanies Vice President On Nine-Nation Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew off today on a 13-day visit to Africa promising to "renew President Johnson's commitment to the ultimate defeat in Africa as well as in our own country of poverty, ignorance, malnutrition and disease."

The vice president, in a speech prepared for his departure from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington, said he hoped to return from his nine-nation tour with a better understanding of Africa and to leave behind "a better understanding of America."

Humphrey, accompanied by his wife is due to return Jan. 10.

The vice president will head the American delegation at the inauguration of President William Tubman of Liberia Jan. 1 and 2. Other members of the inaugural delegation traveling with Humphrey are Justice Thurgood Marshall of the Supreme Court and Edgar Bronfman, New York business executive.

"We intend to make clear America's commitment in Africa as in our own country to peaceful development and human opportunity," Humphrey said in his statement.

Humphrey starts the tour in Abidjan, capital of the Ivory Coast. In addition to the Ivory Coast and Liberia, the vice president will visit Ghana, Congo, Zambia, Ethiopia, Somali, Kenya and Tunisia.

Humphrey aides have declined to say what if any commitments the vice president will make on his trip.

However, the Ivory Coast is interested in a multimillion-dollar loan to help build a hydroelectric project on the Bandama Blanc River.

Administration officials listed these purposes of Humphrey's tour:

—To demonstrate, through personal visits by the second highest American official, the interest of the United States in the African countries and their development.

—To meet personally with African leaders, learn from them their interests and tell them about America's.

—To assess first hand the problems and opportunities for nation-building in Africa, including the prospects for regional economic development.

—To see what the officials termed the exciting developments in economic cooperation among East African countries.

The officials said 59 persons would be traveling on the Humphrey tour, counting the official party and guests of the vice president, assistants and 18 newsmen.

The State Department said it did not have a figure on the trip's estimated cost.

Big-Power Conflict

Threat Posed Over Southeast Asian Situation

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A threat of big-power conflict in Southeast Asia seems to be growing, and if it gets more serious it could bring about a new international conference.

Soviet and Red Chinese statements predict escalation of the Vietnam war through U.S. invasion of Laos and Cambodia, as if reflecting fear this will happen. The United States deplores use of Cambodia by the Viet Cong as sanctuary from American pursuit. There are reports of a Communist buildup and increased activity in Laos.

All this is familiar and ominous.

The imminence of a big-power showdown had much to do with the convocation of an international conference five years ago on the Laotian situation. It could happen again, perhaps this time including talks on the Vietnam struggle.

The record indicates that the Laotian situation in the early 60s was so dangerous that a conference was the only safe way out. The alternative might have been a confrontation and even war among the big powers. A similar situation seems to be building up now.

Though overshadowed by the magnitude of the Vietnam war to its east, Laos poses a smoldering danger of escalation. Students of Southeast Asian affairs speculate that Laos is so important that if there had been no war in Vietnam there surely would have been one in the neighbor state, possibly more perilous from the standpoint of international complications. Laos is a gateway to Burma and Thailand and a potential key to mastery of all Southeast Asia.

In 1960, said a later British parliamentary review of Laos, "it was clear that the conflict could easily assume international dimensions and that decisive action must be taken to avert this danger."

Laos demonstrated then that international action was possible, even though the whole story of the major powers' collaboration in Indochina was a study in frustration, and arrangements to deal with the dangers were so full of holes as to be nearly meaningless.

Communist designs on all of Indochina seemed clear at the time of the 1954 Geneva conference which partitioned Vietnam. Ho Chi Minh's North Vietnamese regime demanded recognition in Cambodia for the Communist-led "Free Khmer" forces and in Laos for the Neo Lao Hak Xat, political arm of the Pathet Lao forces.

The Geneva agreements required Ho's Viet Minh to withdraw from Laos. Pending settlement, the Pathet Lao was supposed to be restricted to two northern provinces, Phong Saly and Sam Neua. The United States and South Vietnam did not sign the agreements. Hanoi did, on behalf of the Pathet Lao.

The Communists chose to interpret the agreement as giving them exclusive control of the two provinces. They ignored a requirement to give free access there to the royal government. There were clashes with royal troops. By 1959, the situation was deteriorating rapidly.

U.S. Planes Error Kills Four In Viet

32 Vietnamese And Two U.S. Advisers Injured In Mistake

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force Canberra bombers mistakenly strafed a company of South Vietnamese irregulars locked in a jungle fight with the Viet Cong Thursday, killing four of the irregulars and wounding 32 and two American advisers, the U.S. Command announced.

U.S. Command said the South Vietnamese force was battling a Viet Cong force in the jungled coastlands of Binh Thuan Province about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

The B57 Canberras were called in to give supporting fire and dipped down with blazing 20mm cannon and 50-caliber machine guns. The ground action against the Viet Cong apparently was broken off as the shattered South Vietnamese unit, called a civilian irregular defense group, pulled back with its casualties.

The strafing run took place in midafternoon and the weather was relatively clear, the U.S. Command said. An investigation was ordered by the commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force Gen. William Momyer and Air Force officers were sent to the scene.

The mistaken strafing came on a day of scattered ground actions up and down the nation. They ranged from pitched battles in the coastal lowlands around Da Nang to clashes in the Mekong Delta where U.S. Navy patrol boats fought Viet Cong infantrymen.

One Communist gunner in the delta put a small patrol boat out of action with a recoilless rifle shot that wounded all five American crewmen. Helicopters swept in to strafe the Viet Cong position, and an accompanying patrol boat pulled the stricken craft out of the battle 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

More Posts To Be Filled

Five Clerks Are Selected For Three County Courts

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners were to meet this afternoon to complete hiring of employes to fill posts which a number of County Court workers have indicated they have quit or will resign in protest over transfer of authority over the staffs of the three district courts.

Five clerks were named by the commissioners Thursday.

Appointment of night clerks and possibly some others was scheduled this afternoon.

Supervision of the three courts will pass Monday from County Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey to the County Commissioners.

Clerks appointed yesterday were:

Southwest Court, Lisbon — V. F. McBurney of 513 Monroe St., East Liverpool, night deputy clerk at $325 per month to accept bonds. Southwest Court is the only one open all the time.

Northwest Court, Salem—Evelyn Rich of Salem, clerk, $325 per month, and Sarah Francis of Columbiana, deputy clerk, $250.

Eastern Court, East Palestine — Carol R. Merwin of East Palestine, clerk, $325, and Janet M. Seagle of East Palestine, deputy clerk, $250.

Veronica Wolski of West Point will remain as clerk in Southwest Court, with Chester Rutecki of Lisbon, presently a night deputy, moving up to daytime deputy clerk.

Commissioners will appoint two men as night deputies in Southwest Court.

Stacey has supervised the courts since 1959. Commissioners James W. Boyd and Charles J. Gause voted last month to transfer control of the courts to the commissioners as of Jan. 1.

All clerks in the three courts were offered their same jobs at the same salaries, but only two accepted.

McBurney was sworn in yesterday at the commissioners' office by Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis. Judge Edward Greenamyer of Northwest Court and Judge D. Barry Dickson of Eastern Court will swear in the new clerks in their offices.

Snow Brings 'Flurry' Of Road Cleanup

Street and road crews remained busy today throughout the tri - state area, along with individual householders, as the show cleanup continued from what amounted to almost around - the - clock "flurries" Thursday.

Snow figures only to a minor degree in the weekend forecast, which calls for partial clearing and a little colder tonight, with a low of from 10 to 16, and little change in temperature with chance of light snow Saturday.

Street department crews here continued spreading ashes and salt today.

They used snowplows early this morning to move the deep accumulation of snow away from parking areas alongside curbs. The snow was pushed into the traffic lanes, where it was covered with salt to be allowed to melt under the wheels of traffic.

Temperatures are due to average below normal Saturday through Wednesday, with highs in the 20s and low 30s and lows in the teens and 20s.

In Northern Cities' Negro Ghettos

Solution To Riots Offered

NEW YORK (AP) — Riots by Negroes in Northern cities "will continue until the well of available cities runs dry," a psychologist declared today.

Explosive violence born of frustrations in Negro ghettos will go on, said Dr. T.M. Tomlinson, unless:

—Massive funds, at least $20 to $25 billions, are made available to combat poverty and other intolerable living conditions. He said this "would not happen in an election year."

—White society demonstrates its "faith in the concept of Negro equality. Negroes have lost faith. They no longer believe that whites will allow them to take their place in this society regardless of what they might do by way of 'proving themselves."

—Negroes are given the chance to organize around economic and political projects that allow all Negroes "to pursue the constructive goals of political and economic power."

Dr. Tomlinson, now with the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, was teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles when the 1965 Los Angeles riot erupted, and was a coinvestigator soon afterward of its causes.

That study, plus some from other riot torn cities, shows that many whites still entertain dangerous myths, he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The myths, he said, are that few Negroes take part in riots —that few sympathize with rioters—that most Negroes regard riots as haphazard and meaningless—that Negroes expect and are afraid of white retaliation and a worsening of interrace relationships.

The Los Angeles riot in Watts "had the purpose of letting the whites know 'how it is' for Negroes," Dr. Tomlinson said.

It "took the lid off by disinhibiting a riot response to the conditions of Negro life that had always existed," and riots now "have assumed the shape of a popular movement."

"There are no deterrents sufficient to expunge the outrage that gives birth to Negro violence, except their own fear, and that comes after the fact," Dr. Tomlinson said.

Riots have exploded where they weren't expected—as in Detroit with "relatively high Negro employment and wage rates"—indicating that "what is unacceptable about Negro life does not vary much from city to city, and the differences in Negro life from city to city are irrelevant. The unifying feature is the consensus that Negroes have been missed by whites."

Complaint Gets Action

Plans Made For Sealing Georgetown Mine Holes

Definite plans were being advanced today by Pennsylvania's Department of Mines and Minerals for the sealing of an abandoned coal mine in the Georgetown area, termed hazardous by a mother who resides near by.

Mrs. Charles Cook of the Hill Rd., who has sought for some time to have the mine entrances closed, was visited Thursday by two aides from the mines department.

David R. Lewis, engineer, and his assistant, Art Kelly of Johnstown, labor foreman, inspected the site with Mrs. Cook.

The two men came as a result of a letter Mrs. Cook sent to Dr. M. R. Charmbury, Pennsylvania secretary of forests and waters. Charmbury notified George Chulich, director of the department's engineering bureau at Ebensburg, of the reported mine hazard, and he sent the two men to meet Mrs. Cook.

Lewis said yesterday he would report to Chulich that the mine entrances should be closed. He said he would check on the ownership status of the property adjacent to the Cook home.

Lewis said one large opening to the mine would probably be backfilled with a bulldozer and some of the other openings may be blasted with dynamite because of the inaccessibility of the sites due to the hilly terrain.

Lewis explained a letter from Charmbury advised them to secure a release from the property owners for the sealing pro-

Piling Snow In Street Banned By Ordinance

The new City Code forbids shoving an accumulation of snow off private property onto a street, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi warned today.

The ordinance applies particularly to owners of service stations, used car lots and parking lots who in the past sometimes hired a snowplow to clear a large area and shove the accumulation onto streets, where it created a traffic hazard, the chief said. The snow sometimes was piled around fire hydrants, blocking them from view, he added.

The same legislation requires property owners and tenants to keep sidewalks, curbs and gutters free of a snow accumulation or other "nuisances," the chief said. It provides a maximum fine of $50 for a violation.

Snow Brings 'Flurry' Of Road Cleanup

Street and road crews remained busy today throughout the tri - state area, along with individual householders, as the show cleanup continued from what amounted to almost around - the - clock "flurries" Thursday.

Snow figures only to a minor degree in the weekend forecast, which calls for partial clearing and a little colder tonight, with a low of from 10 to 16, and little change in temperature with chance of light snow Saturday.

Street department crews here continued spreading ashes and salt today.

They used snowplows early this morning to move the deep accumulation of snow away from parking areas alongside curbs. The snow was pushed into the traffic lanes, where it was covered with salt to be allowed to melt under the wheels of traffic.

Temperatures are due to average below normal Saturday through Wednesday, with highs in the 20s and low 30s and lows in the teens and 20s.

In Northern Cities' Negro Ghettos

Solution To Riots Offered

NEW YORK (AP) — Riots by Negroes in Northern cities "will continue until the well of available cities runs dry," a psychologist declared today.

Explosive violence born of frustrations in Negro ghettos will go on, said Dr. T.M. Tomlinson, unless:

—Massive funds, at least $20 to $25 billions, are made available to combat poverty and other intolerable living conditions. He said this "would not happen in an election year."

—White society demonstrates its "faith in the concept of Negro equality. Negroes have lost faith. They no longer believe that whites will allow them to take their place in this society regardless of what they might do by way of 'proving themselves.'"

—Negroes are given the chance to organize around economic and political projects that allow all Negroes "to pursue the constructive goals of political and economic power."

Dr. Tomlinson, now with the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, was teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles when the 1965 Los Angeles riot erupted, and was a coinvestigator soon afterward of its causes.

That study, plus some from other riot torn cities, shows that many whites still entertain dangerous myths, he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The myths, he said, are that few Negroes take part in riots —that few sympathize with rioters—that most Negroes regard riots as haphazard and meaningless—that Negroes expect and are afraid of white retaliation and a worsening of interrace relationships.

The Los Angeles riot in Watts "had the purpose of letting the whites know 'how it is' for Negroes," Dr. Tomlinson said.

It "took the lid off by disinhibiting a riot response to the conditions of Negro life that had always existed," and riots now "have assumed the shape of a popular movement."

"There are no deterrents sufficient to expunge the outrage that gives birth to Negro violence, except their own fear, and that comes after the fact," Dr. Tomlinson said.

Riots have exploded where they weren't expected—as in Detroit with "relatively high Negro employment and wage rates"—indicating that "what is unacceptable about Negro life does not vary much from city to city, and the differences in Negro life from city to city are irrelevant. The unifying feature is the consensus that Negroes have been missed by whites."

Complaint Gets Action

Plans Made For Sealing Georgetown Mine Holes

Definite plans were being advanced today by Pennsylvania's Department of Mines and Minerals for the sealing of an abandoned coal mine in the Georgetown area, termed hazardous by a mother who resides near by.

Mrs. Charles Cook of the Hill Rd., who has sought for some time to have the mine entrances closed, was visited Thursday by two aides from the mines department.

David R. Lewis, engineer, and his assistant, Art Kelly of Johnstown, labor foreman, inspected the site with Mrs. Cook.

The two men came as a result of a letter Mrs. Cook sent to Dr. M. R. Charmbury, Pennsylvania secretary of forests and waters. Charmbury notified George Chulich, director of the department's engineering bureau at Ebensburg, of the reported mine hazard, and he sent the two men to meet Mrs. Cook.

Lewis said yesterday he would report to Chulich that the mine entrances should be closed. He said he would check on the ownership status of the property adjacent to the Cook home.

Lewis said one large opening to the mine would probably be backfilled with a bulldozer and some of the other openings may be blasted with dynamite because of the inaccessibility of the sites due to the hilly terrain.

Lewis explained a letter from Charmbury advised them to secure a release from the property owners for the sealing pro-

Piling Snow In Street Banned By Ordinance

The new City Code forbids shoving an accumulation of snow off private property onto a street, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi warned today.

The ordinance applies particularly to owners of service stations, used car lots and parking lots who in the past sometimes hired a snowplow to clear a large area and shove the accumulation onto streets, where it created a traffic hazard, the chief said. The snow sometimes was piled around fire hydrants, blocking them from view, he added.

The same legislation requires property owners and tenants to keep sidewalks, curbs and gutters free of a snow accumulation or other "nuisances," the chief said. It provides a maximum fine of $50 for a violation.

Slippery Streets Cause 4 Wrecks

Slippery streets were blamed for four of the five traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

Two driverless autos were involved in a wreck in the 1000 block of May St. at 11:34 p. m. and one of the vehicles halted with its nose against a tree in the owner's yard, officers said.

The unusual mishap involved a parked 1962 sedan owned by Edgar Morgan of 1017 Hazel St. and a 1960 four - door sedan owned by Dewey Bunnell of 1004 May St.

Bunnell told police he was in his home when he heard a noise, looked outside and saw his car halted against a tree in front of the home. The parked Morgan car apparently slid on the snowy street and struck the Bunnell auto, pushing it about 14 feet into the tree, police said.

BRAKE failure was blamed for a three - way collision at 8:24 p. m. on E. 3rd St. at Broadway.

The crash involved a 1962 two-door sedan operated by Dora Viola Schmidt, 36, of 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, a 1962 two-door sedan driven by Frank G. Blankenship, 20, of 622 6th St., Chester, and a parked 1959 two-door sedan owned by James Lovett of 768 Minerva St.

The Wellsville woman told police she was slowing to halt for the traffic light at E. 3rd St. and Broadway when her brakes failed. Her car then hit the rear of the Blankenship vehicle, which was stopped for the traffic signal, and continued through the intersection and across the property of an adjacent service station, striking Lovett's car in a parking place in Farmers Alley.

The crash damaged the front of the Schmidt car, the left rear of the Blankenship auto and the rear of Lovett's auto.

A WOMAN escaped injury when her car overturned onto its side on an embankment on Ray St. at St. Clair Ave. Thursday at 7:21 p. m.

The 1967 sedan was operated by Mrs. Donna J. Pethtel, 45, of Calcutta RD 1. There was moderate damage to the left side of the car, police said.

Mrs. Pethtel said she was driving south on St. Clair Ave. and attempted to halt for a car in front of her. When she saw she would not have time to halt, she turned onto Ray St., where the car upset on the embankment, she said.

SNOW - COVERED streets also were blamed for a mishap on Pennsylvania Ave. at Lee St. Thursday at 4:51 p. m., officers said.

The collision damaged a 1965 two - door sedan driven by William J. Tychonevich, 49, of Rogers RD 1 and a 1959 four-door sedan operated by Sam DeBerry, 72, of 104 Boyce St.

DeBerry was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. and Tychonevich was pulling onto the thoroughfare from Lee St., officers said. DeBerry's car slid on snow as he attempted to halt.

A parked 1966 two - door sedan owned by Harry E. Hickman of 163 S. Surry Rd. was damaged at 2:37 p. m. Thursday on E. 4th St. near Union St. when bumped by a 1962 four-door sedan driven by Betty Ann Wilson, 31, of Ashland Pl., officers said. The woman said she was attempting to turn when her car slid and hit the left front door of the Hickman car.

Miami Chief's Plan Backed By Governor

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida Gov. Claude Kirk says he supports Police Chief Walter Headley's new "get tough" program in Miami's Negro neighborhoods which was instituted after an outbreak of violent crime in slum areas.

Meanwhile, civil rights leaders said they would protest the program and lawyers for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said they planned court action against Headley.

Kirk said Thursday "Police Chief Headley has been forced to instruct his men to use whatever force necessary to stop criminals who have demonstrated time and again that they are ready to use knives, bludgeons and guns against their helpless victims."

"Let every criminal and every potential criminal understand now that officers of the law will deal with him with renewed determination," the Republican governor said.

Marvin Davies, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would lead a group of the state's top NAACP officials planning to attend a city commission meeting today where Headley is to explain his new program.

Davies has said he would demand Headley's suspension "until his attitude changes."

Public Hearings Draw To Close

ConCon Turns Attention To Apportionment Issue

HARRISBURG (AP — Committees of the Constitutional Convention turned their attention to the areas of legislative apportionment and taxation and finance today, as a series of public hearings drew to a close.

Six witnesses were scheduled to appear before the Legislative Apportionment Committee during a morning round; eight were slated to testify before the Taxation and Finance Committee in the afternoon.

On Wednesday, the Judiciary Committee conducted a full day of hearings, and Thursday, the Local Government Committee did the same. The object of the hearings was to collect information and recommendations for the revision of four constitutional articles.

One of the more far-reaching proposals made to the Local Government Committee was the elimination of all property tax exemptions, including those enjoyed by churches.

"We propose a prohibition against all tax exemptions at the local level," testified Richard G. Marden, executive director of the Pennsylvania League of Cities. "We set a continuing erosion of our tax resources with each session of the General Assembly."

Marden said a 1964 study showed that 64 per cent of the property in Harrisburg and 54 per cent in Williamsport, 48 per cent in Wilkes-Barre and 41 per cent in Johnstown was tax exempt.

Milton W. DeLancey, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors, also called for all property owners to "pay their fair share for local services."

"You've got to draw the line somewhere," DeLancey said. "If you are going to make exceptions for churches, then that opens the door for others. . .It is our feeling all exemptions should be eliminated."

Rep. Milton Berkes, a Democrat, recommended a five-man board for smaller counties and a seven-man board for larger ones (first-to-third-class).

"Election of members of the board of commissioners would be by district, with the county being divided into five or seven commission districts. . .each district conforming as nearly as possible to the Supreme Court's apportionment decision, popularly known as the 'one - man, one-vote rule'."

Berkes suggested the appointment of a county manager to have complete charge of the administrative functions of county government, and the conversion of elected county row offices to appointive positions.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two and a half years on the job, chairman Charles S. Murphy of the Civil Aeronautics Board is resigning—rumor has it to assist in President Johnson's campaign for re-election.

Murphy said Thursday his resignation will probably take effect in February.

He denied the reports that he has a job waiting at the White House but said: "If there is something the President wants me to do part-time, he has first claim on my services."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Restoration of Lawrence W. Acker to two key posts in the Organization of American States is seen by some diplomatic sources as evidence that top OAS officials are responding to criticism of its financial and administrative practices.

OAS was hit by scandal earlier this month when Secretary General Jose A. Mora acknowledged that the Office of Financial Services had been "unable to close the books of accounts for the OAS regular budget activities for fiscal year 1965-66."

Acker, whose return to the positions of treasurer and director of fiscal affairs was announced Thursday, had been transferred from those jobs last May to an advisory position in Mora's office.

Authoritative sources said at the time the transfer was an attempt to remove him from direct contact with OAS financial affairs because he had been critical of administrative procedures.

Sentencing Of 7 Convicted In Rights Slaying Set Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A U.S. district judge today sentences seven white men convicted of conspiracy in the deaths of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County.

The seven were convicted by an all-white jury in Meridian in October of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro.

Indictments were issued under a 97-year-old Reconstruction era law providing a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The state has never filed charges, contending all evidence is in the hands of the federal government.

The seven were Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., 42, imperial wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan; Neshoba County Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price; former nightclub bouncer Alton Wayne Roberts; Horace Doyle Barnette, 31; Billy Wayne Posey, 30, a former service station operator; and Jimmy Arledge, 29, and Jimmy Snowden, both truck drivers.

Sentencing was delayed pending completion of presentence reports from federal probation officers and legal work on appeal motions.

The bodies were taken in the station wagon to a pond dam under construction. A bulldozer pushed dirt over the bodies to form a tomb.

The station wagon was found burned miles from the dam site. An intensive FBI investigation resulted in finding the bodies 44 days after the slayings.

The victim, Army Sgt. Paul B. Maddox, 25, Massillon, arrived in Vietnam Dec. 20 and was on a training operation just outside Duc Tho when killed.

"Although the area was thought to be safe, the group of soldiers drew sniper fire, surprisingly, and Maddox, was hit," an Army spokesman said.

Slippery Streets Cause 4 Wrecks

Slippery streets were blamed for four of the five traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

Two driverless autos were involved in a wreck in the 1000 block of May St. at 11:34 p. m. and one of the vehicles halted with its nose against a tree in the owner's yard, officers said.

The unusual mishap involved a parked 1962 sedan owned by Edgar Morgan of 1017 Hazel St. and a 1960 four - door sedan owned by Dewey Bunnell of 1004 May St.

Bunnell told police he was in his home when he heard a noise, looked outside and saw his car halted against a tree in front of the home. The parked Morgan car apparently slid on the snowy street and struck the Bunnell auto, pushing it about 14 feet into the tree, police said.

BRAKE failure was blamed for a three - way collision at 8:24 p. m. on E. 3rd St. at Broadway.

The crash involved a 1962 two-door sedan operated by Dora Viola Schmidt, 36, of 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, a 1962 two-door sedan driven by Frank G. Blankenship, 20, of 622 6th St., Chester, and a parked 1959 two-door sedan owned by James Lovett of 768 Minerva St.

The Wellsville woman told police she was slowing to halt for the traffic light at E. 3rd St. and Broadway when her brakes failed. Her car then hit the rear of the Blankenship vehicle, which was stopped for the traffic signal, and continued through the intersection and across the property of an adjacent service station, striking Lovett's car in a parking place in Farmers Alley.

The crash damaged the front of the Schmidt car, the left rear of the Blankenship auto and the rear of Lovett's auto.

A WOMAN escaped injury when her car overturned onto its side on an embankment on Ray St. at St. Clair Ave. Thursday at 7:21 p. m.

The 1967 sedan was operated by Mrs. Donna J. Pethtel, 45, of Calcutta RD 1. There was moderate damage to the left side of the car, police said.

Mrs. Pethtel said she was driving south on St. Clair Ave. and attempted to halt for a car in front of her. When she saw she would not have time to halt, she turned onto Ray St., where the car upset on the embankment, she said.

SNOW - COVERED streets also were blamed for a mishap on Pennsylvania Ave. at Lee St. Thursday at 4:51 p. m., officers said.

The collision damaged a 1965 two - door sedan driven by William J. Tychonevich, 49, of Rogers RD 1 and a 1959 four-door sedan operated by Sam DeBerry, 72, of 104 Boyce St.

DeBerry was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. and Tychonevich was pulling onto the thoroughfare from Lee St., officers said. DeBerry's car slid on snow as he attempted to halt.

A parked 1966 two - door sedan owned by Harry E. Hickman of 163 S. Surry Rd. was damaged at 2:37 p. m. Thursday on E. 4th St. near Union St. when bumped by a 1962 four-door sedan driven by Betty Ann Wilson, 31, of Ashland Pl., officers said. Public Hearings Draw To Close

ConCon Turns Attention To Apportionment Issue

HARRISBURG (AP) — Committees of the Constitutional Convention turned their attention to the areas of legislative apportionment and taxation and finance today, as a series of public hearings drew to a close.

Six witnesses were scheduled to appear before the Legislative Apportionment Committee during a morning round; eight were slated to testify before the Taxation and Finance Committee in the afternoon.

On Wednesday, the Judiciary Committee conducted a full day of hearings, and Thursday, the Local Government Committee did the same. The object of the hearings was to collect information and recommendations for the revision of four constitutional articles.

One of the more far-reaching proposals made to the Local Government Committee was the elimination of all property tax exemptions, including those enjoyed by churches.

"We propose a prohibition against all tax exemptions at the local level," testified Richard G. Marden, executive director of the Pennsylvania League of Cities. "We set a continuing erosion of our tax resources with each session of the General Assembly."

Marden said a 1964 study showed that 64 per cent of the property in Harrisburg and 54 per cent in Williamsport, 48 per cent in Wilkes-Barre and 41 per cent in Johnstown was tax exempt.

Milton W. DeLancey, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors, also called for all property owners to "pay their fair share for local services."

Rep. Milton Berkes, a Democrat, recommended a five-man board for smaller counties and a seven-man board for larger ones (first-to-third-class).

"Election of members of the board of commissioners would be by district, with the county being divided into five or seven commission districts. . .each district conforming as nearly as possible to the Supreme Court's apportionment decision, popularly known as the 'one - man, one-vote rule'."

Berkes suggested the appointment of a county manager to have complete charge of the administrative functions of county government, and the conversion of elected county row offices to appointive positions.

Today In Washington

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two and a half years on the job, chairman Charles S. Murphy of the Civil Aeronautics Board is resigning—rumor has it to assist in President Johnson's campaign for re-election.

Murphy said Thursday his resignation will probably take effect in February.

He denied the reports that he has a job waiting at the White House but said: "If there is something the President wants me to do part-time, he has first claim on my services."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Restoration of Lawrence W. Acker to two key posts in the Organization of American States is seen by some diplomatic sources as evidence that top OAS officials are responding to criticism of its financial and administrative practices.

OAS was hit by scandal earlier this month when Secretary General Jose A. Mora acknowledged that the Office of Financial Services had been "unable to close the books of accounts for the OAS regular budget activities for fiscal year 1965-66."

Acker, whose return to the positions of treasurer and director of fiscal affairs was announced Thursday, had been transferred from those jobs last May to an advisory position in Mora's office.

Authoritative sources said at the time the transfer was an attempt to remove him from direct contact with OAS financial affairs because he had been critical of administrative procedures.

Sentencing Of 7 Convicted In Rights Slaying Set Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A U.S. district judge today sentences seven white men convicted of conspiracy in the deaths of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County.

The seven were convicted by an all-white jury in Meridian in October of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro.

Indictments were issued under a 97-year-old Reconstruction era law providing a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The state has never filed charges, contending all evidence is in the hands of the federal government.

The seven were Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., 42, imperial wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan; Neshoba County Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price; former nightclub bouncer Alton Wayne Roberts; Horace Doyle Barnette, 31; Billy Wayne Posey, 30, a former service station operator; and Jimmy Arledge, 29, and Jimmy Snowden, both truck drivers.

Sentencing was delayed pending completion of presentence reports from federal probation officers and legal work on appeal motions.

The bodies were taken in the station wagon to a pond dam under construction. A bulldozer pushed dirt over the bodies to form a tomb.

The station wagon was found burned miles from the dam site. An intensive FBI investigation resulted in finding the bodies 44 days after the slayings.

The victim, Army Sgt. Paul B. Maddox, 25, Massillon, arrived in Vietnam Dec. 20 and was on a training operation just outside Duc Tho when killed.

"Although the area was thought to be safe, the group of soldiers drew sniper fire, surprisingly, and Maddox, was hit," an Army spokesman said.

Paul Whiteman, Famed Bandleader, Dies At 77

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Famed bandleader Paul Whiteman died today apparently of a heart attack at Doylestown hospital.

The musician was rushed to the hospital not far from his home in Bucks County, Pa. He was stricken at his home and taken to the hospital around 4:30 a.m., a hospital spokesman said.

Known as the "King of Jazz" and "Pops" Whiteman, the 77-year-old composer remained devoted to music to the end, all kinds of music "I don't think you have to live in one groove all the time," he said recently. "If it's well done, it's well done, no matter what kind it is."

Whiteman introduced the era of "symphonic jazz" and became famous for his playing of George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." He also introduced Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite."

Many musical stars had their beginning in Whiteman's band, which became most popular between the two World Wars. Alumni included Bing Crosby, Grofe and Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey.

One of the highlights of Whiteman's career came last fall when residents of New Hope, the quaint Bucks County village 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia on the Delaware River, where he lived in semiretirement, honored him for his half century in jazz.

He named his retirement home "Coda" explaining a coda was the last eight bars.

Whiteman was born in Denver, Colo., and played first viola in the Denver Symphony in his teens. He formed his first orchestra shortly after World War I and toured the United States and Europe.

In the 1930s, Whiteman became a popular conductor on radio programs. In 1943 he was musical director of the Blue Network, which later became the American Broadcasting Co.

Lisbon Council Confirms Ray Beers' Appointment

LISBON — Villiage Council Thursday night confirmed Mayor Dean Stockman's appointment of Ray Beers as councilman to complete the unexpired term of Clyde B. Pike, mayor-elect.

Beers, owner of the Lisbon Tire Service on S. Lincoln Ave., served on Council in 1952-53.

Stockman is completing 10 years' service in elected offices —eight as mayor and two as councilman. He thanked Council for its cooperation and, after reading Pike's letter of resignation as councilman, wished him success as mayor. Pike will begin a four-year term Monday. His term on Council runs through 1969.

At the request of John Ebert, clerk - treasurer, Council transferred $200 from the general fund to the swimming pool fund to meet bills of $166.80.

Councilman Robert Kelm recommended that the village ordinance book (1954) be brought up to date. Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi suggested that the recommendation be turned over to the police committee for study.

Stockman read a letter from W. E. Quicksall & Associates, Inc., New Philadelphia consulting engineers, listing a price of $3,000 for engineering work for the proposed construction of Cross and Exchange Sts. The firm estimated construction costs at $21,000 for removing the existing surface and putting in new streets. Both are one block long between E. Lincoln Way and Washington St.

The meeting was the last for the mayor and Mrs. Blanche Neill and Kelm, members of Council.

Stockman administered the oath of office to Ebert, who will begin a second term Monday, and to Coancilmen-elect Willis Coleman Jr. and William Robinson.

Before the meeting, the mayor swore in the three members of the board of trustees of public affairs for new terms—Alfred J. Smith for two years and Chairman James E. Crowell and Clyde M. Wilson, both for four years. The board will reorganize Jan. 11.

County OK's Funds For 3 Month Period

LISBON — A temporary appropriation of $1,252,531 to cover county expenses for the first three months of 1968 was adopted Thursday by Columbiana County Commissioners.

The amount, of which $366,219 is for general fund expenditures, represents one - fourth of the 1967 budget. The 1968 budget will be prepared after receipt from the county auditor of the official certificate of estimated resources late next month.

Commissioners accepted a $2,100 bid from Brittain Motors, Inc., East Palestine, for a 1968 Chevrolet two - door sedan for the Sheriff's department. The proposal was the only one received and includes a trade-in allowance for a 1966 ford.

Washington Township trustees —Donald Hirst, Harry Bryson and Carl Morrow — notified county engineer John Ursu of approval of a proposal to take over County Road 413 as a township road.

County road 413 runs from the north corporation line of Salineville through sections 24, 30 and 32 to the southern boundary of Wayne Township, a distance of 2.03 miles. It will be designated township road 769 (Seigler Rd.) as it is now designated in Wayne Township.

The commissioners also authorized Ursu to proceed with plans and specifications for the improvement of County Road 401 and township road 804 in Knox Township.

Improvements are proposed at the following locations:

County Rd. 401, part 1: from the intersection with (Hartley Rd.) southerly a distance of approximately 1,000 feet, and part II: from a point 700 feet south from township road (known both as Bowman Rd. and Gilson Rd.) northerly about 900 feet; and township road 804; from a point 75 feet easterly from county road 401 westerly about 700 feet.

The commissioners will not meet again until 10 a. m. Thursday.

ject, and to remedy Mrs. Cook's complaint about the danger of children going into the mine or falling through an opening.

The two men indicated they would return to the site soon to photograph the openings and tour the area again when the weather is better. The two aides and Mrs. Cook were driven to the site by Review reporter Norma Jean Liberatore because of the difficulty of traveling in their vehicle on the snow-clogged roads.

Mrs. Cook several weeks ago requested The Review to assist her in having the mine sealed. A photograph of the mine entrance and a story was published Nov. 18. Mrs. Cook has had a number of letter exchanges with Charmbury, Sen. Ernest Kline, Rep. Frank Clark and others.

Mrs. Cook said yesterday she is pleased that "something is finally being done."

Meanwhile, work continued today on the sealing of two large clay mine entrances along the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. by the Ohio Bureau of Mines.

The bureau obtained a release from the property owners and began Tuesday morning to build brick walls at the entrances of the abandoned mine where two Warren youths became lost for over 30 hours earlier this month.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

Q. Is there any treatment for multiple sclerosis?

A. There is no recognized specific treatment although Swedish physicians have reported some success with the drug ACTH. Patients treated with this drug are kept under constant medical supervision. Good results are claimed during the acute phase of the disease. Improvement is less obvious during the chronic progressive phase. When the disease is stationary, the treatment is useless.

NEEDLESS BLINDNESS FROM CATARACTS

Q. I am 72 and have very poor vision because of cataracts. Is it too late to have surgery?

A. No person need be handicapped by uncomplicated cataract because of age alone. The only consideration is the patient's life expectancy. At 72 one would reasonably expect a good many years of enjoyable life ahead. Why not restore useful vision? Recent advances in cataract surgery have made it possible to restore sight in almost every case, with only slight inconvenience and very little danger. Consult an eye specialist.

Paul Whiteman, Famed Bandleader, Dies At 77

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Famed bandleader Paul Whiteman died today apparently of a heart attack at Doylestown hospital.

The musician was rushed to the hospital not far from his home in Bucks County, Pa. He was stricken at his home and taken to the hospital around 4:30 a.m., a hospital spokesman said.

Known as the "King of Jazz" and "Pops" Whiteman, the 77-year-old composer remained devoted to music to the end, all kinds of music "I don't think you have to live in one groove all the time," he said recently. "If it's well done, it's well done, no matter what kind it is."

Whiteman introduced the era of "symphonic jazz" and became famous for his playing of George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." He also introduced Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite."

Many musical stars had their beginning in Whiteman's band, which became most popular between the two World Wars. Alumni included Bing Crosby, Grofe and Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey.

One of the highlights of Whiteman's career came last fall when residents of New Hope, the quaint Bucks County village 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia on the Delaware River, where he lived in semiretirement, honored him for his half century in jazz.

He named his retirement home "Coda" explaining a coda was the last eight bars.

Whiteman was born in Denver, Colo., and played first viola in the Denver Symphony in his teens. He formed his first orchestra shortly after World War I and toured the United States and Europe.

In the 1930s, Whiteman became a popular conductor on radio programs. In 1943 he was musical director of the Blue Network, which later became the American Broadcasting Co.

Lisbon Council Confirms Ray Beers' Appointment

LISBON — Villiage Council Thursday night confirmed Mayor Dean Stockman's appointment of Ray Beers as councilman to complete the unexpired term of Clyde B. Pike, mayor-elect.

Beers, owner of the Lisbon Tire Service on S. Lincoln Ave., served on Council in 1952-53.

Stockman is completing 10 years' service in elected offices —eight as mayor and two as councilman. He thanked Council for its cooperation and, after reading Pike's letter of resignation as councilman, wished him success as mayor. Pike will begin a four-year term Monday. His term on Council runs through 1969.

At the request of John Ebert, clerk - treasurer, Council transferred $200 from the general fund to the swimming pool fund to meet bills of $166.80.

Councilman Robert Kelm recommended that the village ordinance book (1954) be brought up to date. Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi suggested that the recommendation be turned over to the police committee for study.

Stockman read a letter from W. E. Quicksall & Associates, Inc., New Philadelphia consulting engineers, listing a price of $3,000 for engineering work for the proposed construction of Cross and Exchange Sts. The firm estimated construction costs at $21,000 for removing the existing surface and putting in new streets. Both are one block long between E. Lincoln Way and Washington St.

The meeting was the last for the mayor and Mrs. Blanche Neill and Kelm, members of Council.

Stockman administered the oath of office to Ebert, who will begin a second term Monday, and to Coancilmen-elect Willis Coleman Jr. and William Robinson.

Before the meeting, the mayor swore in the three members of the board of trustees of public affairs for new terms—Alfred J. Smith for two years and Chairman James E. Crowell and Clyde M. Wilson, both for four years. The board will reorganize Jan. 11.

County OK's Funds For 3 Month Period

LISBON — A temporary appropriation of $1,252,531 to cover county expenses for the first three months of 1968 was adopted Thursday by Columbiana County Commissioners.

The amount, of which $366,219 is for general fund expenditures, represents one - fourth of the 1967 budget. The 1968 budget will be prepared after receipt from the county auditor of the official certificate of estimated resources late next month.

Commissioners accepted a $2,100 bid from Brittain Motors, Inc., East Palestine, for a 1968 Chevrolet two - door sedan for the Sheriff's department. The proposal was the only one received and includes a trade-in allowance for a 1966 ford.

Washington Township trustees —Donald Hirst, Harry Bryson and Carl Morrow — notified county engineer John Ursu of approval of a proposal to take over County Road 413 as a township road.

County road 413 runs from the north corporation line of Salineville through sections 24, 30 and 32 to the southern boundary of Wayne Township, a distance of 2.03 miles. It will be designated township road 769 (Seigler Rd.) as it is now designated in Wayne Township.

The commissioners also authorized Ursu to proceed with plans and specifications for the improvement of County Road 401 and township road 804 in Knox Township.

Improvements are proposed at the following locations:

County Rd. 401, part 1: from the intersection with (Hartley Rd.) southerly a distance of approximately 1,000 feet, and part II: from a point 700 feet south from township road (known both as Bowman Rd. and Gilson Rd.) northerly about 900 feet; and township road 804; from a point 75 feet easterly from county road 401 westerly about 700 feet.

The commissioners will not meet again until 10 a. m. Thursday.

Husband Bound Over In Slaying Of Wife, 34

SALEM — Lowell N. Conrad, 34, of Alliance was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury for first degree murder in a preliminary hearing this morning before County Judge Edward Greenamyer.

Conrad was charged with the slaying of his estranged wife, Chrystal Ann, 34, the morning of Dec. 10. The couple had separated in November. She was pronounced dead from a pistol wound in the head shortly after Conrad went to the home of a policeman friend and turned a pistol over to him.

ject, and to remedy Mrs. Cook's complaint about the danger of children going into the mine or falling through an opening.

The two men indicated they would return to the site soon to photograph the openings and tour the area again when the weather is better. The two aides and Mrs. Cook were driven to the site by Review reporter Norma Jean Liberatore because of the difficulty of traveling in their vehicle on the snow-clogged roads.

Mrs. Cook several weeks ago requested The Review to assist her in having the mine sealed. A photograph of the mine entrance and a story was published Nov. 18. Mrs. Cook has had a number of letter exchanges with Charmbury, Sen. Ernest Kline, Rep. Frank Clark and others.

Mrs. Cook said yesterday she is pleased that "something is finally being done."

Meanwhile, work continued today on the sealing of two large clay mine entrances along the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. by the Ohio Bureau of Mines.

The bureau obtained a release from the property owners and began Tuesday morning to build brick walls at the entrances of the abandoned mine where two Warren youths became lost for over 30 hours earlier this month.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

Q. Is there any treatment for multiple sclerosis?
A. There is no recognized specific treatment although Swedish physicians have reported some success with the drug ACTH. Patients treated with this drug are kept under constant medical supervision. Good results are claimed during the acute phase of the disease. Improvement is less obvious during the chronic progressive phase. When the disease is stationary, the treatment is useless.

NEEDLESS BLINDNESS FROM CATARACTS

Q. I am 72 and have very poor vision because of cataracts. Is it too late to have surgery?
A. No person need be handicapped by uncomplicated cataract because of age alone. The only consideration is the patient's life expectancy. At 72 one would reasonably expect a good many years of enjoyable life ahead. Why not restore useful vision? Recent advances in cataract surgery have made it possible to restore sight in almost every case, with only slight inconvenience and very little danger. Consult an eye specialist.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

The Community Image

Crispin Mkandawire, 23-year-old Malawi student, gives the view of the outsider of East Liverpool's appearance, people, problems and accomplishments.

The Kent State University journalism major in his article in Thursday's Review touched upon the shabbiness in some downtown areas, the condition of the city jail, the unsightliness of the Ohio River shore, the disparity between what is and what could be.

He referred to the friendliness of the residents, the efficiency of the government services, the investment in the new schools, plans for housing the elderly.

It is natural for Americans to forget what advantages they have, not just in individual freedoms but in material benefits. It is just as natural to become forgetful and blind to our faults, our weaknesses, our unwillingness to solve problems which need solutions.

Crispin's impressions, which he was requested to write for this newspaper, should be helpful to all of us, as any constructive criticism from outsiders or insiders should be.

With the various projects contemplated for community change and improvement, Crispin's comments, softened by a shy tactfulness, provide an interesting guide on some places where we can revise our image.

Back To The Isobars, Boys?

Just when Tri - State Area residents are getting to learn the probability factors of a "20 per cent chance of rain or snow or earthquake," the weatherman confounds us with a new semantics mystery.

Thursday's forecast listed "snow flurries." The East Liverpool area's one particular flurry lasted all afternoon and most of the night, a flurry which provided an accumulation of three to four inches.

Mr. Webster regards a flurry as a "brief, light snowfall." The Thursday visitation was neither brief nor light.

If there has been a change in definitions among the environmental sciences people, perhaps it would be well to make a public notice of it. If we are faced today with the results of a "flurry," look out, Silas, when a "heavy snowfall" is forecast!

If yesterday's storm was not a flurry, then it's the old theme, "Back to the Isobars, Boys. . ."

The Sound Of Brubeck

Progressive jazz became a cult, and its leading high priest was Dave Brubeck, a jazz musician with a background of classical music.

The sound of Brubeck on the piano, interlaced with the sound of Paul Desmond's saxophone, was to fill the land by the mid-'50s. To this day their followers could spot it through the clamor of 50 snarling tigers, 76 trombones and four caterwauling folk-singers.

Later, it became Brubeck, Desmond, Morello and Wright—Morello on drums, Wright on bass. That was all of 10 years ago—an era in the shifting fortunes of musicians.

The quartet now is breaking up. The sound of Brubeck has been augmented by a lot of other sounds, some not half so easy to listen to. But however that may be in the final judgment of musical historians, it is dead certain that Dave Brubeck, along with Paul Desmond, will be credited with the courage and skill to liberate musicanship masterfully.

After them, nothing was the same. Progressive jazz had come to stay. A musician could put a theme in here, let it go round and round and finally come out here, barely recognizable but technically intact. As music goes, which is erratically in recent years, it was quite a feat.

Auto Tag Suspension Mandatory

On Dec. 14, a new Ohio traffic law went into effect.

Its purpose is to protect the majority of Ohioans who respect traffic laws against a minority of scofflaws who disrespect them.

The new law says any motorist caught driving in Ohio while his driver license is suspended shall be deprived of the tags for his car.

The tags shall be impounded in The Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, along with the certificate of registration, and kept there until the motorist's right to operate a motor vehicle has been restored.

The effect of this law, if traffic court judges do not find ways to evade it, can be to ground scofflaws who chronically cause highway accidents.

Law-respecting motorists and their passengers have a greater right to security on Ohio roads than motorists who sneer at the law by walking out of traffic court after their driver licenses have been suspended and driving home — and continuing to drive thereafter as if nothing had happened.

For years, law-respecting Ohioans have been at the mercy of scofflaws on the state's streets and highways — drunks and chronic wreckers driving on suspended licenses.

Their licenses were suspended in the first place because these people menaced public safety. Yet, as long as they had wheels under them they couldn't care less about suspension of their driver licenses.

The shoe now is on the other foot, where it should be used to kick scofflaws off Ohio highways and keep them there until they learn to respect the law.

A Hopeful Look At 1968

By now everyone has a gullet full of year-end reviews and summaries. Shortcomings have been recounted, missed chances itemized, blunders assessed and neglect minimized.

Now come predictions and hopes for 1968.

This is our list:

First, we would wish for more understanding in the world — understanding between men and nations. A sufficient quantity of this rare commodity would lead directly to cooperation and peace.

For those who hold the destiny of the world in their hands, we wish the wisdom to make decisions based on the principle of human rights, and the courage to carry them out.

In the year 1968, there will be enough food production potential among all nations to make certain that no man, woman or child would starve to death. We would like to see this potential harnessed, coordinated and directed into areas of need.

For fellow Americans, we hope 1968 brings a revival of responsibility toward each other and toward the nation. The right of dissent carries with it an equal amount of responsibility.

For youth we predict more disillusionment but a growing sense of optimism about change. They aren't ready to give up. Many are ready to move out. Criticism alone can never take the place of direct constructive action.

Sorrowfully, we predict more bloodshed at distant points around the globe. From this flow of blood will come revived realization of the futility of this method of problem solving.

The impracticality, utter uselessness and barbarism of war are not enough to stem the tide of human emotions that lead to bloodshed. Perhaps someday mankind will deserve to be called civilized.

Our hope for peace in the world and full cooperation among nations cannot be realized in 1968; but many phases of the dream could be placed in motion.

The dignity and goodness of humanity aren't dead, only hibernating. We hope 1968 is the year of a great awakening.

We stand ready to be accused of placing our aspirations on a high plane.

We could even be charged with promoting idealism, perhaps do-goodism.

Put in an age when many eyes are raised no higher than the navel of a belly dancer, we prefer to think there is more to the world than war, narcotics, declining morals, spiritual cannibalism, consuming hate, starvation, lawlessness and impending disaster.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

I do not believe there is a feasible defense against a missile attack, except to dig enough holes in the earth to accommodate all of us, which coincides with the long-range plans of the military minds plotting our extinction.

One of the most attractive Christmas displays I saw this year showed three life-sized and life-like choir boys in white robes presumably singing Christmas carols. Unfortunately, every time I saw it I got the shivers and had to turn up the car heater.

The Boston Red Sox had nothing officially to say about Jim Lonborg's ski accident, though it had been stipulated in his contract that he was to avoid accidents. Unless his wrenched knee recovers, he could think of that last ski glide as $50,000 worth of pure fun.

The retirement of Sam Huff from pro football is bringing up stories. I like his crack at a former New York Giants team mate being honored at a testimonial dinner. "Hobnobbing with big shots won't help you," warned Huff. "When your number is up you'll go just as fast as the rest of us." Huff had been sold down the river to the Washington Redskins.

It takes me by surprise when somone I consider to be well-informed proposes that the United States be turned over to military control. This reveals complete misunderstanding of the reason this free country never has Prussianized its government.

Don't think about this too deeply, but if an individual throws garbage in the street he gets short shrift, though a manufacturing enterprise can pollute an entire watershed and the sky above without eliciting more than a pious pronouncement that it sure would be nice if it didn't commit such a nuisance. It sure would.

Many of us remember when the nicest thing that could happen to a community was air pollution, because it meant something was happening. Sooty smudges and the aroma of half-consumed soft coal smoke were something to boast about.

George Romney is a "straight arrow" — meaning a man who is without guile or duplicity — also without bad habits or any questionable traits whatsoever. I don't think he has a chance to win a presidential nomination for these reasons.

False Front?

VICTOR RIESEL

Retire And Live Lavishly

WASHINGTON — It will become apparent quite swiftly why this is the season to relate one of the stories the late John Kennedy loved to tell especially in the weeks shortly after he returned from his first summit conference in Vienna.

Victor Riesel

As Jack Kennedy reported the incident, he had just gotten into a heated discussion over some point with the Soviet's erstwhile premier when Nikita Khrushchev snapped:

"You pay too much attention in America to your trade unions. You have a labor problem in America. We solved our labor problem in the Soviet Union back in 1921, a couple years after we can to power."

"Well," queried Mr. Kennedy, "how did you solve it?"

"We shot all the labor leaders," Khrushchev retorted.

Jack Kennedy, with his characteristic grin, relayed the exchange to George Meany who has related it frequently in the years since.

The anecdote came to mind the other day when word came that one of Meany's closest friends and allies inside labor would retire from the presidency of a large and influential union, the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks International Assn. (RCIA). The "retiree" is Jim Suffridge, friend and frequent envoy of President Johnson, intimate of Hubert Humphrey and one of the few nominal Republicans in labor's high command.

But our "capitalist" system does better by labor leaders than retiring them with deadly permanence.

Suffridge, now 58, will retire on an annual pension of some $50,000. Of this, $30,000 is the RCIA's regular presidential pension. In addition, the last national convention confirmed an additional annual bonus of $20,000 for life. Thus the chap, who many believed would succeed his friend, George Meany, is certain he will not need in our creaking society.

BUT IN THIS SEASON of universal fraternity and good will to men, as Suffridge moves towards becoming the Retail Clerk's International President Emeritus, other instances of generosity spring to mind. The case of another longtime colleague of Suffridge's, a venerable labor leader by name of George Harrison, also shows that American labor should have no gripe against this society of corporate conglomerates, as some labor research chiefs love to call it.

When Harrison, easily one of labor's three most influential policy makers, decided to retire, he was president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. In gratitude for his services, one of the Brotherhood's national conventions made him Chief Executive Officer instead of merely president Emeritus.

The new post, as is befitting, brought him $60,000 a year. An annuity giving him $30,000 annually for life was set up. Thus the retirement sum comes to $90,000 annually. Khrushchev himself hasn't done that well in retirement.

Of course there are labor retirees (including some who were not so anxious to go) not quite as prestigious. But they do well. The still cherubic-looking Dave Beck, now happily married, is entitled to almost $1,000 weekly.

If Jim Hoffa picks up his option despite his vile durance, he can get $2,000 a week for life. Meanwhile, he is entitled to his $100,000 a year salary and expenses.

Not all those who have left the spotlight or are about to quit front-stage are doing so well. There is silver-haired, pipe-smoking Dave McDonald, who once was president of the United Steelworkess. Officially he's now reduced to $500 a week for life from his union but seems to be bearing up well at his hardship location in Palm Springs.

AND THERE IS ANOTHER whom labor leaders now discuss with more compassion and less heat than in the past. He is James Carey, his hair whiter now than his old curly black locks. Jim Carey now is raising funds for the United Nations Assn. He's rarely seen by his old friends. But he is comfortable, what with $12,500 annually from the International Union of Electrical Workers which he once headed.

Jim gets a little, too, from the Industrial Union Dept. which is a holdover from the old CIO days when it put aside a government savings bond each week for its officers. This should bring Jim about $50 weekly in addition to his other small income and eventual pension.

And so it goes with the exes and emeriti at Christmas time. Old King Coal, white-haired 86-year-old John Lewis can draw his $1,000 weekly. Jimmy Caesar Petrillo, 75 now, is encouraged by the American Federation of Musicians leader, Herman Kenin, to be active and travels about as the federation's Civil Rights director at a $20,000 annual salary.

And when George Meany retires—and that a long way off—his pension will be somewhere in the compromise range of $45,000 annually.

So a question arises: Which is the workers' paradise—the U.S. or the U.S.S.R.?

Reckoning Ahead

A year of reckoning is the outlook for 1968.

The American people don't know all the facts. When they do, they will insist that the finances of their government be put in order. Otherwise, devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold will be inevitable.

The truth is that in the current fiscal year the U.S. government will have spent by June 30 $180 billion in cash. This represents a steady increase since 1961— A total rise of more than 80 per cent.

As population grows, it is natural that expenses of government will go up, too. But what is relevant is that the government is subsisting on borrowed money.

It is easy enough to blame the Vietnam War. Yet the current budget shows that while there has been a rise of 30 billion in military expenditures over the last seven years, the cash outlay for nonmilitary projects — social welfare — has moved up by $51 billion.

NOT ONLY has spending by the federal government increased, but the cost of state and local governments has risen by more than $30 billion.

This means that government expenditures at all levels now amount to about $250 billion a year. The big question is how long this can be carried on largely with borrowed money and unbalanced budgets.

Sooner or later, public confidence breaks down. European financiers today see weaknesses in the dollar as a result of both a deficit in what is called the "balance of payments" in import and export trade and in the huge excess of expenditures over receipts in domestic governmental operations.

Federal revenues have grown from $97 billion in 1961 to more than $158 billion. But this has not been enough to balance budgets.

There have been only seven balanced cash budgets in 38 years.

Other countries are suffering from the same kind of financial instability, and that is why there is worry over the future of the dollar. If the dollar cannot stand the strain, other currencies, too, will be adversely affected.

The remedy doesn't lie simply in an increase in taxes — though this would help. The problem is more closely related to the task of economizing so priority will be given to necessities.

Commendable as are some of the projects being undertaken, many can be deferred, because it is not absolutely imperative to carry them out at this time.

Governmental agencies are under tremendous pressure to spend money for "social welfare." It is politically more difficult to reject such demands than it is to grant them.

Politicians realize that votes are to be obtained by a flow of benefits to their constituents. Someday, however, there has to be an accounting and a priority system established. This is one of the hardest things for the federal government as well as state governments to accomplish.

Will the crisis come in 1968? Will the dollar have to be devalued then?

DISINTERESTED analysts aboard are saying that the dollar has a fundamental strength which can be maintained for a long while. The danger, on the other hand, is that the monetary units in other countries will begin to weaken and this would in turn have a corresponding impact on the dollar.

Under the circumstances, especially with an election campaign coming up, there will be in 1968 a demand that the government economize. But the chances of doing so will be slim until after the November election.

If the United States can avoid a break in its dollar strength between now and November, a realistic reconstruction of the budget is going to be necessary. It remains to be seen whether there will arise in both political parties enough members of Congress with the courage to insist that federal expenditures be held down substantially until the financial burden of the Vietnam War is removed.

Nobody inside or outside of the government can guess what the pressures will be as the result of the weakening of currencies in other parts of the world and as a consequence of the growing effects of inflation at home.

Wages and prices are being steadily raised without any restraints imposed by law.

The outlook is for some decisive steps to be taken in 1968.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A Christmas fairyland, a toy world in miniature, was created at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Welce of the Clarkson - Rogers Rd., near Clarkson, an annual "labor of love" at the holiday season.

Activities of the county engineering department during 1937 included the construction of 8.85 miles of improved roads, building of five bridges and the maintenance of 110 miles of county roads.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Henry A. Wallace announced that he would run as an independent candidate for president in 1948.

S. A. Farrar and Harlan Finley of East Liverpool were named by Labor Department at Washington to assist in returning Columbiana County veterans to the jobs they held before World War II.

TEN YEARS AGO — Dennis McKenzie of Calcutta was presented the Kiwanis Club's annual 4-H plaque award for outstanding service.

The Community Image

Crispin Mkandawire, 23-year-old Malawi student, gives the view of the outsider of East Liverpool's appearance, people, problems and accomplishments.

The Kent State University journalism major in his article in Thursday's Review touched upon the shabbiness in some downtown areas, the condition of the city jail, the unsightliness of the Ohio River shore, the disparity between what is and what could be.

He referred to the friendliness of the residents, the efficiency of the government services, the investment in the new schools, plans for housing the elderly.

It is natural for Americans to forget what advantages they have, not just in individual freedoms but in material benefits. It is just as natural to become forgetful and blind to our faults, our weaknesses, our unwillingness to solve problems which need solutions.

Crispin's impressions, which he was requested to write for this newspaper, should be helpful to all of us, as any constructive criticism from outsiders or insiders should be.

With the various projects contemplated for community change and improvement, Crispin's comments, softened by a shy tactfulness, provide an interesting guide on some places where we can revise our image.

Back To The Isobars, Boys?

Just when Tri - State Area residents are getting to learn the probability factors of a "20 per cent chance of rain or snow or earthquake," the weatherman confounds us with a new semantics mystery.

Thursday's forecast listed "snow flurries." The East Liverpool area's one particular flurry lasted all afternoon and most of the night, a flurry which provided an accumulation of three to four inches.

Mr. Webster regards a flurry as a "brief, light snowfall." The Thursday visitation was neither brief nor light.

If there has been a change in definitions among the environmental sciences people, perhaps it would be well to make a public notice of it. If we are faced today with the results of a "flurry," look out, Silas, when a "heavy snowfall" is forecast!

If yesterday's storm was not a flurry, then it's the old theme, "Back to the Isobars, Boys. . ."

The Sound Of Brubeck

Progressive jazz became a cult, and its leading high priest was Dave Brubeck, a jazz musician with a background of classical music.

The sound of Brubeck on the piano, interlaced with the sound of Paul Desmond's saxophone, was to fill the land by the mid-'50s. To this day their followers could spot it through the clamor of 50 snarling tigers, 76 trombones and four caterwauling folk-singers.

Later, it became Brubeck, Desmond, Morello and Wright—Morello on drums, Wright on bass. That was all of 10 years ago—an era in the shifting fortunes of musicians.

The quartet now is breaking up. The sound of Brubeck has been augmented by a lot of other sounds, some not half so easy to listen to. But however that may be in the final judgment of musical historians, it is dead certain that Dave Brubeck, along with Paul Desmond, will be credited with the courage and skill to liberate musicanship masterfully.

After them, nothing was the same. Progressive jazz had come to stay. A musician could put a theme in here, let it go round and round and finally come out here, barely recognizable but technically intact. As music goes, which is erratically in recent years, it was quite a feat.

Auto Tag Suspension Mandatory

On Dec. 14, a new Ohio traffic law went into effect.

Its purpose is to protect the majority of Ohioans who respect traffic laws against a minority of scofflaws who disrespect them.

The new law says any motorist caught driving in Ohio while his driver license is suspended shall be deprived of the tags for his car.

The tags shall be impounded in The Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, along with the certificate of registration, and kept there until the motorist's right to operate a motor vehicle has been restored.

The effect of this law, if traffic court judges do not find ways to evade it, can be to ground scofflaws who chronically cause highway accidents.

Law-respecting motorists and their passengers have a greater right to security on Ohio roads than motorists who sneer at the law by walking out of traffic court after their driver licenses have been suspended and driving home — and continuing to drive thereafter as if nothing had happened.

For years, law-respecting Ohioans have been at the mercy of scofflaws on the state's streets and highways — drunks and chronic wreckers driving on suspended licenses.

Their licenses were suspended in the first place because these people menaced public safety. Yet, as long as they had wheels under them they couldn't care less about suspension of their driver licenses.

The shoe now is on the other foot, where it should be used to kick scofflaws off Ohio highways and keep them there until they learn to respect the law.

A Hopeful Look At 1968

By now everyone has a gullet full of year-end reviews and summaries. Shortcomings have been recounted, missed chances itemized, blunders assessed and neglect minimized.

Now come predictions and hopes for 1968.

This is our list:

First, we would wish for more understanding in the world — understanding between men and nations. A sufficient quantity of this rare commodity would lead directly to cooperation and peace.

For those who hold the destiny of the world in their hands, we wish the wisdom to make decisions based on the principle of human rights, and the courage to carry them out.

In the year 1968, there will be enough food production potential among all nations to make certain that no man, woman or child would starve to death. We would like to see this potential harnessed, coordinated and directed into areas of need.

For fellow Americans, we hope 1968 brings a revival of responsibility toward each other and toward the nation. The right of dissent carries with it an equal amount of responsibility.

For youth we predict more disillusionment but a growing sense of optimism about change. They aren't ready to give up. Many are ready to move out. Criticism alone can never take the place of direct constructive action.

Sorrowfully, we predict more bloodshed at distant points around the globe. From this flow of blood will come revived realization of the futility of this method of problem solving.

The impracticality, utter uselessness and barbarism of war are not enough to stem the tide of human emotions that lead to bloodshed. Perhaps someday mankind will deserve to be called civilized.

Our hope for peace in the world and full cooperation among nations cannot be realized in 1968; but many phases of the dream could be placed in motion.

The dignity and goodness of humanity aren't dead, only hibernating. We hope 1968 is the year of a great awakening.

We stand ready to be accused of placing our aspirations on a high plane.

We could even be charged with promoting idealism, perhaps do-goodism.

Put in an age when many eyes are raised no higher than the navel of a belly dancer, we prefer to think there is more to the world than war, narcotics, declining morals, spiritual cannibalism, consuming hate, starvation, lawlessness and impending disaster.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

I do not believe there is a feasible defense against a missile attack, except to dig enough holes in the earth to accommodate all of us, which coincides with the long-range plans of the military minds plotting our extinction.

One of the most attractive Christmas displays I saw this year showed three life-sized and lifelike choir boys in white robes presumably singing Christmas carols. Unfortunately, every time I saw it I got the shivers and had to turn up the car heater.

The Boston Red Sox had nothing officially to say about Jim Lonborg's ski accident, though it had been stipulated in his contract that he was to avoid accidents. Unless his wrenched knee recovers, he could think of that last ski glide as $50,000 worth of pure fun.

The retirement of Sam Huff from pro football is bringing up stories. I like his crack at a former New York Giants team mate being honored at a testimonial dinner. "Hobnobbing with big shots won't help you," warned Huff. "When your number is up you'll go just as fast as the rest of us." Huff had been sold down the river to the Washington Redskins.

It takes me by surprise when somone I consider to be well-informed proposes that the United States be turned over to military control. This reveals complete misunderstanding of the reason this free country never has Prussianized its government.

Don't think about this too deeply, but if an individual throws garbage in the street he gets short shrift, though a manufacturing enterprise can pollute an entire watershed and the sky above without eliciting more than a pious pronouncement that it sure would be nice if it didn't commit such a nuisance. It sure would.

Many of us remember when the nicest thing that could happen to a community was air pollution, because it meant something was happening. Sooty smudges and the aroma of half-consumed soft coal smoke were something to boast about.

George Romney is a "straight arrow" — meaning a man who is without guile or duplicity — also without bad habits or any questionable traits whatsoever. I don't think he has a chance to win a presidential nomination for these reasons.

False Front?

VICTOR RIESEL

Retire And Live Lavishly

WASHINGTON — It will become apparent quite swiftly why this is the season to relate one of the stories the late John Kennedy loved to tell especially in the weeks shortly after he returned from his first summit conference in Vienna.

Victor Riesel

As Jack Kennedy reported the incident, he had just gotten into a heated discussion over some point with the Soviet's erstwhile premier when Nikita Khrushchev snapped:

"You pay too much attention in America to your trade unions. You have a labor problem in America. We solved our labor problem in the Soviet Union back in 1921, a couple years after we can to power."

"Well," queried Mr. Kennedy, "how did you solve it?"

"We shot all the labor leaders," Khrushchev retorted.

Jack Kennedy, with his characteristic grin, relayed the exchange to George Meany who has related it frequently in the years since.

The anecdote came to mind the other day when word came that one of Meany's closest friends and allies inside labor would retire from the presidency of a large and influential union, the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks International Assn. (RCIA). The "retiree" is Jim Suffridge, friend and frequent envoy of President Johnson, intimate of Hubert Humphrey and one of the few nominal Republicans in labor's high command.

But our "capitalist" system does better by labor leaders than retiring them with deadly permanence.

Suffridge, now 58, will retire on an annual pension of some $50,000. Of this, $30,000 is the RCIA's regular presidential pension. In addition, the last national convention confirmed an additional annual bonus of $20,000 for life. Thus the chap, who many believed would succeed his friend, George Meany, is certain he will not need in our creaking society.

BUT IN THIS SEASON of universal fraternity and good will to men, as Suffridge moves towards becoming the Retail Clerk's International President Emeritus, other instances of generosity spring to mind. The case of another longtime colleague of Suffridge's, a venerable labor leader by name of George Harrison, also shows that American labor should have no gripe against this society of corporate conglomerates, as some labor research chiefs love to call it.

When Harrison, easily one of labor's three most influential policy makers, decided to retire, he was president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. In gratitude for his services, one of the Brotherhood's national conventions made him Chief Executive Officer instead of merely president Emeritus.

The new post, as is befitting, brought him $60,000 a year. An annuity giving him $30,000 annually for life was set up. Thus the retirement sum comes to $90,000 annually. Khrushchev himself hasn't done that well in retirement.

Of course there are labor retirees (including some who were not so anxious to go) not quite as prestigious. But they do well. The still cherubic-looking Dave Beck, now happily married, is entitled to almost $1,000 weekly.

If Jim Hoffa picks up his option despite his vile durance, he can get $2,000 a week for life. Meanwhile, he is entitled to his $100,000 a year salary and expenses.

Not all those who have left the spotlight or are about to quit front-stage are doing so well. There is silver-haired, pipe-smoking Dave McDonald, who once was president of the United Steelworkess. Officially he's now reduced to $500 a week for life from his union but seems to be bearing up well at his hardship location in Palm Springs.

AND THERE IS ANOTHER whom labor leaders now discuss with more compassion and less heat than in the past. He is James Carey, his hair whiter now than his old curly black locks. Jim Carey now is raising funds for the United Nations Assn. He's rarely seen by his old friends. But he is comfortable, what with $12,500 annually from the International Union of Electrical Workers which he once headed.

Jim gets a little, too, from the Industrial Union Dept. which is a holdover from the old CIO days when it put aside a government savings bond each week for its officers. This should bring Jim about $50 weekly in addition to his other small income and eventual pension.

And so it goes with the exes and emeriti at Christmas time. Old King Coal, white-haired 86-year-old John Lewis can draw his $1,000 weekly. Jimmy Caesar Petrillo, 75 now, is encouraged by the American Federation of Musicians leader, Herman Kenin, to be active and travels about as the federation's Civil Rights director at a $20,000 annual salary.

And when George Meany retires—and that a long way off—his pension will be somewhere in the compromise range of $45,000 annually.

So a question arises: Which is the workers' paradise—the U.S. or the U.S.S.R.?

Woman To Face Jury In Hancock Narcotics Case

A Kentucky woman, charged in Weirton with attempting to obtain narcotics illegally, has been bound to the January term of the Hancock County grand jury.

Mrs. Gilbert R. Burton, 47, of Lexington, Ky., was arrested Tuesday night by police there after she allegedly tried to pass a false prescription at a drugstore.

During a hearing Thursday before Squire Thomas Bellanco, she waived a preliminary hearing and was bound to the grand jury. Mrs. Burton is being held in the Hancock County jail in lieu of $500 bond.

A warrant issued by Bellanco charges the woman tried to obtain 10 milligram numorphan tablets with a prescription she presented a druggist, carrying a signature purported to be that of a Steubenville physician.

A clerk,, noting the soiled condition of the paper, said the doctor's name, printed across the top of the prescription form, was not spelled in the same manner as the script signature below. Upon questioning the doctor, police said, he reported issuing no prescription to the woman.

his country, Kahlid said that for the first few years boys and girls attend classes together, but in the junior and senior grades, they are schooled separately.

PENNY SAID that when she thought of the Arabian countries, visions of women in ankle-length dresses and veils came to her mind, but Kahlid was quick to correct her, saying that everyone wears nearly the same type of clothing as American residents. Salt, Kahlid's home town, is a small, but modern city. There are farms in the outlying area and, in the desert, camels are used for transportation.

Friday is the holy day of the Muslim; the predominate religion, Kahlid said. There are churches and synagogues of every denomination though. The main church, Alkevama, is in Jerusalem.

Kahlid was reluctant to speak of the recent war between his country and Israel, but said some of the fighting occurred not far from his home. He explained that the country is divided into states, similar to ours, but smaller. Each state has a "president." At the head of the government is King Hussein.

THE CONVERSATION between Penny and Kahlid turned to dating, and she discovered that young girls and most women in Jordan do not go out alone. It is not uncommon for a girl's mother to accompany a couple on a date. And Kahlid indicated that it's not as bad as it sounds.

After his brief stay with Penny, Kahlid plans to go to Miami College in Oklahoma, where he has a friend from Jordan. The school is a small one, but chosen because he wants to become familiar with our customs before transferring to a larger school.

He wants to live the first month on campus, then move in with an American family to improve his command of the language — which he speaks in a low, slightly accented manner — and to understand our "ways."

He plans to become a civil engineer, earning his doctor of philosophy before returning to his country. On holidays and between quarters or semesters at school, he plans to return to see Penny.

Penny, who will return next week to Ohio State, said that after meeting Kahlid she understands much more about his country. She noted that, though his arrival was two days after Christmas, it seemed most appropriate to have a visitor from the Holy Land at this time of year.

Little boys with big cases of hero worship aren't unusual in a lineman's life. They watch fascinated as he works, follow him around when he's on the ground, ply him with questions. A Kentucky woman, charged in Weirton with attempting to obtain narcotics illegally, has been bound to the January term of the Hancock County grand jury.

A warrant issued by Bellanco charges the woman tried to obtain 10 milligram numorphan tablets with a prescription she presented a druggist, carrying a signature purported to be that of a Steubenville physician.

A clerk,, noting the soiled condition of the paper, said the doctor's name, printed across the top of the prescription form, was not spelled in the same manner as the script signature below. Upon questioning the doctor, police said, he reported issuing no prescription to the woman.

U.S. Steel Joins In Price Boost

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. Steel Corp. has joined several other producers in posting $5 a ton increases on cold rolled carbon strip.

The nation's largest steelmaker announced Thursday a similar hike on railroad rails. The increases affect about 2½ per cent of the company's shipments. The hikes are effective Jan. 8.

The increase on strip follows price hikes by Interlake Steel, Rohm Strip Steel and Sharon Steel. Though not major steel companies, the three produce a large share of the specialty carboon steel strip used in electrical equipment, industrial machinery and some automotive applications.

The company also said prices on wrought steel wheels would be cut back to prices charged prior to Nov. 27, a 3 1-3 per cent reduction. The cut, effective immediately, was made "to meet lower competitive prices of makers of cast steel wheels," a spokesman said.

Aluminum can be produced in more useful forms than any other metal.

Three Hurt In Explosion At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The explosion that injured three persons and wrecked part of a building housing two youth agencies may not have much affect on the agencies' work.

"We won't know for sure until we can get back into the building to assess the situation, but it shouldn't have much effect on our work," Harry Martin, director of the Citizens Committee on Youth, said Thursday night.

Martin said he did not think the files of the CCY and the Neighborhood Youth Corps suffered much damage from the blast. Both agencies work with disadvantaged youths.

Three CCY employes were injured by the gas explosion that blew out part of the first floor wall shortly before 4 p.m. Thursday. Windows were blown out throughout the building and even some windows in City Hall, across the street, were smashed.

Edward Avey, assistant fire chief, estimated damage at between $30,000 and $40,000 and said the gas explosion occurred in the basement of the building that formerly housed the Community Chest.

Curtis Gregory, 31, coordinator of job development, education centers and placement services for the CCY, was critically injured. Mary Trickel, 28, and Mary Barnes, 23, were reported in fair condition.

Gregory was on the telephone complaining about the smell of gas in the building, when the explosion occurred. The floor of his office caved in and he was buried under rubble.

Seven other persons in the building, including Martin, escaped injury.

College Head Withdraws Resignation

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of Central State University, who resigned last month while classes were suspended because of campus rioting, said Thursday he has withdrawn the resignation.

Dr. Harry E. Groves said in a statement that one of the reasons he decided to stay on was that "a majority of the student body has addressed to me petitions and letters and by personal visits has urged the reconsideration of my resignation."

In a related move, university trustees meeting here Thursday upheld the expulsion of Michael Warren, who has been barred from the Wilberforce campus since the Nov. 13 disturbances.

When he announced his resignation Nov. 25 Groves declined to answer questions whether the rioting figured in his decision.

In his statement Thursday, the president said he did not resign "because of the recent serious difficulties in which the university was thrust."

Groves said he made the move "because it seemed that the public, particularly that most important segment of it, the students of the university, had not understood either my concern for them and for the university or the true nature of the work of a president of a modern development university.'

The rioting was blamed on a group of about 40 Black Power advocates. Warren, 23, a nephew of Cleveland Councilman John W. Kellogg, was expelled for allegedly threatening the life of Dr. Rembert Stokes, president of neighboring Wilberforce University.

His expulsion reportedly led to the riot involving 200 students. The national guard was called in and the school closed for two weeks.

Groves resigned two days before it reopened.

Warren has an action pending in federal court in Dayton to get reinstated at the university.

Palestine Starts Ambulance Plan With Fire Units

EAST PALESTINE — Starting Monday the city will assume responsibility for providing ambulance service in the area, Fire Chief Frank Frederick announced today.

The action came in the wake of announcement by operators of the two funeral homes they would no longer service the area with ambulances after Dec. 30.

Chief Frederick said the volunteer firemen have eight men trained in first aid and telephone and radio operators on a 24-hour duty.

Firemen have handled emergency calls here for many years on a no charge basis.

City officials are currently determining how the new operation, which will be much larger than before, will be financed. Firemen have handled between 180 and 200 calls a year over the years. Frederick says the program will require more men and equipment.

Funeral directors estimate they handled 200 a year.

U.S. Steel Joins In Price Boost

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. Steel Corp. has joined several other producers in posting $5 a ton increases on cold rolled carbon strip.

The nation's largest steelmaker announced Thursday a similar hike on railroad rails. The increases affect about 2½ per cent of the company's shipments. The hikes are effective Jan. 8.

The increase on strip follows price hikes by Interlake Steel, Rohm Strip Steel and Sharon Steel. Though not major steel companies, the three produce a large share of the specialty carboon steel strip used in electrical equipment, industrial machinery and some automotive applications.

The company also said prices on wrought steel wheels would be cut back to prices charged prior to Nov. 27, a 3 1-3 per cent reduction. The cut, effective immediately, was made "to meet lower competitive prices of makers of cast steel wheels," a spokesman said.

Aluminum can be produced in more useful forms than any other metal.

Three Hurt In Explosion At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The explosion that injured three persons and wrecked part of a building housing two youth agencies may not have much affect on the agencies' work.

"We won't know for sure until we can get back into the building to assess the situation, but it shouldn't have much effect on our work," Harry Martin, director of the Citizens Committee on Youth, said Thursday night.

Martin said he did not think the files of the CCY and the Neighborhood Youth Corps suffered much damage from the blast. Both agencies work with disadvantaged youths.

Three CCY employes were injured by the gas explosion that blew out part of the first floor wall shortly before 4 p.m. Thursday. Windows were blown out throughout the building and even some windows in City Hall, across the street, were smashed.

Edward Avey, assistant fire chief, estimated damage at between $30,000 and $40,000 and said the gas explosion occurred in the basement of the building that formerly housed the Community Chest.

Curtis Gregory, 31, coordinator of job development, education centers and placement services for the CCY, was critically injured. Mary Trickel, 28, and Mary Barnes, 23, were reported in fair condition.

Gregory was on the telephone complaining about the smell of gas in the building, when the explosion occurred. The floor of his office caved in and he was buried under rubble.

Seven other persons in the building, including Martin, escaped injury.

College Head Withdraws Resignation

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of Central State University, who resigned last month while classes were suspended because of campus rioting, said Thursday he has withdrawn the resignation.

Dr. Harry E. Groves said in a statement that one of the reasons he decided to stay on was that "a majority of the student body has addressed to me petitions and letters and by personal visits has urged the reconsideration of my resignation."

In a related move, university trustees meeting here Thursday upheld the expulsion of Michael Warren, who has been barred from the Wilberforce campus since the Nov. 13 disturbances.

When he announced his resignation Nov. 25 Groves declined to answer questions whether the rioting figured in his decision.

In his statement Thursday, the president said he did not resign "because of the recent serious difficulties in which the university was thrust."

Groves said he made the move "because it seemed that the public, particularly that most important segment of it, the students of the universty, had not understood either my concern for them and for the university or the true nature of the work of a president of a modern development university."

The rioting was blamed on a group of about 40 Black Power advocates. Warren, 23, a nephew of Cleveland Councilman John W. Kellogg, was expelled for allegedly threatening the life of Dr. Rembert Stokes, president of neighboring Wilberforce University.

His expulsion reportedly led to the riot involving 200 students. The national guard was called in and the school closed for two weeks.

Groves resigned two days before it reopened.

Warren has an action pending in federal court in Dayton to get reinstated at the university.

Palestine Starts Ambulance Plan With Fire Units

EAST PALESTINE — Starting Monday the city will assume responsibility for providing ambulance service in the area, Fire Chief Frank Frederick announced today.

The action came in the wake of announcement by operators of the two funeral homes they would no longer service the area with ambulances after Dec. 30.

Chief Frederick said the volunteer firemen have eight men trained in first aid and telephone and radio operators on a 24-hour duty.

Firemen have handled emergency calls here for many years on a no charge basis.

City officials are currently determining how the new operation, which will be much larger than before, will be financed. Firemen have handled between 180 and 200 calls a year over the years. Frederick says the program will require more men and equipment.

Funeral directors estimate they handled 200 a year.

The emergency service telephone number is 426-9511.

Aid To Education, Antipoverty

Political System In Fore On 2 Controversial Bills

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ability of the American political system to transform controversial new legislation into broadly accepted programs was demonstrated anew by congressional action this year on the federal aid-to-education and antipoverty programs.

In the areas of Social Security, civil rights, welfare and labor relations, proposals that at one time seemed dangerously radical to a large part of the population are securely enshrined in the law books.

It could be happening again.

Just a few years ago the opposition to a federal school bill was so intense President John F. Kennedy had to abandon any hope of getting one passed. But the 90th Congress recently gave overwhelming approval to a bill extending the program through 1970 at a total authorization of $9.3 billion.

The antipoverty bill has touched off some of the fiercest fights in Congress during the last three years. But this year it won a two-year extension by a solid bipartisan vote and appears firmly established on the national scene.

The capacity of the body politic to absorb ideas it once resisted is largely a matter of timing and leadership. It was President Johnson who supplied the leadership that launched the antipoverty and school bills, but is was Congress that put them through the fires of controversy and tempered the opposition.

Both bills were originally passed by the 89th Congress, which Johnson called, "My Congress." With their huge majority, Democrats not only had no need of Republican support, they pointedly shunned it, preferring to drive the Republicans into an opposition role in the belief it would damage the GOP in urban areas.

It may have been smart politics, but as a legislative procedure it produced a sharp partisan division that jeopardized both programs in the much more closely matched 89th Congress, particularly in the House.

The administration made no concessions to the changed conditions in the House and early in the session both programs appeared on their way to being severely mangled. Convinced that the administration was out of touch with the House and the nation, key Democrats on the Education and Labor Committee forced through the changes that smoothed the road to passage for both measures.

In each case the keys to broadened support were amendments increasing the role of state and local authorities in the programs and weakening the federal government's role.

The resulting legislation was far from satisfactory to many of its warmest supporters.

"If the antipoverty bill is hailed as a victory," noted the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, "it is because the worst things Congress was generally expected to do to the poverty program were somehow avoided."

And those who never liked either program found nothing to cheer about in their continuation for two more years.

But the lopsided votes by which each was approved indicated the programs had achieved the kind of endorsement that can lead to a long life on the statute books.

Outbreak Of Asian Flu Reported In 24 States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Communicable Disease Center reports outbreaks of Asian Flu and similar respiratory infections in 24 states and the District of Columbia but says the mortality rate does not appear to be unusually higher.

New York City health officials said the death rate there is higher than usual. There were 100 such deaths for the week ending Dec. 22, the New York officials said, and the tolerance zone for deaths from influenza and pneumonia for the week in the state is 88.

It is difficult, health officials say, to measure the seriousness of the outbreaks throughout the nation because schools are closed during the holidays. Schools usually are the best means of determining the rate of absenteeism.

The virus appears to be relatively mild in most instances, but health officials say this creates a problem.

"Most of the cases are so mild that people simply won't go to bed," said Dr. John E. McCroan of the Georgia Health Department. "They are walking around, spreading the bug around."

An estimated 15,000 cases have been reported in North Georgia with most of them in metropolitan Atlanta.

Documentation of Asian Flu has been made in Michigan, Florida, New Jersey, Alabama, New York, Oklahoma, Illinois, Kansas, Iowa and Georgia, the CDC says. Probable Asian Flu has been reported in Indiana, Virginia, Wisconsin, Louisiana and Missouri and possible Asian Flu has been noted in Ohio, Maryland, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Carolina and the District of Columbia.

Some increase in pneumonia and other respiratory diseases has been reported, but national health officials say pneumonia deaths are compiled with influenza deaths.

They say, however, that most of the illnesses are attributed to Asian Flu, which swept the West Coast in February 1966 and the eastern parts of the nation in the winter of 1965.

The CDC said this strain of flu has changed slightly and will be different in current epidemics. Dr. Stephen C. Schonbaum said flu vaccines also must be changed each year by their manufacturers.

A Toronto man injured at work was treated Thursday at City Hospital along with seven others.

Young U.S. Navy Men

Sweden Considers What To Do With 4 Deserters

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish government is considering what to do with four young U.S. Navy deserters who jumped ship in Japan to protest American involvement in the Vietnam war and came to Sweden from Moscow seeking asylum.

Informants indicated that the four probably would be accepted by Sweden, but there was a chance they might be returned to Moscow.

Police took the bearded quartet to a police station to check their papers as soon as they stepped from a Scandinavian airliner early today.

Authorities said the youths left Moscow without applying for visas. They are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla., John M. Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md., Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif., and Michael A. Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

"They have put us in a rather unusual situation," said one official. "Usually political refugees claim they have been subject to persecution in the country they fled from. But as far as we know, the Americans have been treated well in the Soviet Union."

The young Americans quit the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Yokosuka, Japan, in October while it was there on leave from Vietnam duty. Japanese pacifists smuggled them out of the county, and they arrived in Moscow early in November. They criticized U.S. actions in Vietnam in appearances on Soviet television and with the Soviet press, but Western newsmen in Moscow were not allowed to interview them.

A member of the diplomatic colony in Moscow who encountered the sailors by chance said they were "fed up with Russia" and were anxious to reach Sweden.

The Swedish Committee for Vietnam, which opposes American participation in the war, said the sailors had appealed for help and that temporary housing had been arranged for them with Swedish families.

The four do not have American passports but have been issued Red Cross documents.

Slick Streets Cause Three Auto Mishaps

NEW CUMBERLAND — One driver was hurt in three accidents here Thursday, all attributed to slippery streets.

Charles W. Solter, 36, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was treated and released at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville, for a nose injury and laceration of the face after a mishap on N. Chestnut St. about 5:30 p. m. He was not cited.

Police Chief William Webster said Solter reported he was forced off the road and his auto slid into a power pole, causing heavy damage to the car.

Earlier, two autos were involved in a collision on Ridge Ave.

A car driven by William P. Boring, 35, of 807 Ridge Ave. was struck from behind by another operated by Robert F. Curtis, 36, of Arlington, Va., about 4:40 p.m.

Boring said he stopped on the street and Curtis attempted to halt, but couldn't because of the icy conditions and his auto struck Boring's in the rear. Curtis was not cited. There was minor damage to the autos. Neither driver was injured.

A porch on a house was damaged early Thursday when an auto slid on snow and left the roadway at Pearl and N. Chestnut St.

Police said Samuel M. Swain Jr., 28, of Scotts Ln. here lost control of his auto on the snow-covered street and struck the porch at the home of Mrs. Lee Rawson. The porch received minor damage while Swain's auto received about $250 damage. He was not cited.

The mishap occurred about 5:10 a. m.

One Injured In 15 Mishaps Investigated By Ohio Patrol

A Lisbon man was hospitalized this morning after his car overturned along Route 164 north of Lisbon, one of 15 district mishaps investigated Thursday and today on the area's snow - covered roads by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

John M. Chamberlain, 21, of 433 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was taken to Salem City Hospital following the accident at 12:20 a. m. three miles north of Lisbon.

Chamberlain was headed south in a 1962 coach when the car skidded off the east side of the highway, struck two natural gas pipes and rolled over on its top.

James Guy Crawford, 18, of Rogers RD 1 escaped injury yesterday afternoon when his car struck a guardrail and tractor trailer truck on Route 30 in the Substation area.

Officers said he was headed north and attempted to pass the rig driven by Stanley Thomas, 31, of New Matamoras. He lost control on the slick roadway and the car hit the guardrail, then struck the truck.

Charles M. Lockhart Jr., 18, of Wellsville was cited for speeding after his 1962 convertible collided with a pickup truck on County Rd. 427.

The patrol said he was headed south when he lost control of the car on a curve and it slid across the road and hit the oncoming truck driven by Russell L. Jordan, 28, of RD 1.

Ralph C. Coursin, 22, of RD 1 was cited after his coach hit the rear of an Ohio Highway Department truck on Route 30 about three miles south of Route 7 at 9:30 p. m.

Coursin was headed south when he lost control on the icy pavement, officers said, and his car hit the rear of the truck operated by Homer Binegar, 55, of Wellsville RD 1.

Coursin was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

No one was injured in a collision of cars driven by Michael Bobby, 59, of Weirton and Howard J. Havice of Beacon Rd. on Route 7 some two miles north of Route 30 at 3:30 p.m.

Havice was attempting to pass Bobby when his 1956 coach swerved into the side of Bobby's 1955 coach, then went off the road.

Voter Registrars Listed During Hancock Meeting

Lists presented by both the Democrat and Republican parties in Hancock County for voter registrars were accepted by the Hancock County Court of Commissioners meeting Wednesday night at New Cumberland.

The commissioners approved both lists as the parties presented them and set fees to be paid those involved. A total of 78 residents will canvass county homes under provisions of West Virginia law.

The registrars will be paid $10 for attending a school Jan. 9 in the Courthouse. During the canvass, they will receive 20 cents for each new registration and 12 cents each for changes and checking. The registrars, one from each party, work in teams.

They will begin work after their schooling on Jan. 9 and continue through March 31. If on their first contact they find no one at home, they will leave a card and the resident can either contact them or come to the New Cumberland Courthouse to register to vote.

The commissioners met with four Weirton insurance agents to discuss the county's coverage. The agents made recommendations, but the court decided more study is needed in some areas. Another meeting will be held.

William Boring was appointed sextant of the New Manchester Cemetery.

Commissioners will receive bids until Feb. 5 for a new roof for the Courthouse.

Charles Miller and Mrs. Jean Robison were reappointed to the children's home board.

The court extended the time for receiving bids for construction of the proposed $300,000 jail adjacent to the Courthouse.

The new date is Jan. 19. Originally the commissioners had asked for bids on Jan. 9 for the construction project, but bids for demolition of the old jail will not be received until then.

The demolition bids received during the December meeting were turned down after a disagreement by two commissioners and the court advertised for new bids returnable on Jan. 9 when a meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Courthouse.

The Courthouse will be closed Saturday and Monday in observance of the New Year holiday. The commissioners will meet Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Aid To Education, Antipoverty

Political System In Fore On 2 Controversial Bills

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ability of the American political system to transform controversial new legislation into broadly accepted programs was demonstrated anew by congressional action this year on the federal aid-to-education and antipoverty programs.

In the areas of Social Security, civil rights, welfare and labor relations, proposals that at one time seemed dangerously radical to a large part of the population are securely enshrined in the law books.

It could be happening again.

Just a few years ago the opposition to a federal school bill was so intense President John F. Kennedy had to abandon any hope of getting one passed. But the 90th Congress recently gave overwhelming approval to a bill extending the program through 1970 at a total authorization of $9.3 billion.

The antipoverty bill has touched off some of the fiercest fights in Congress during the last three years. But this year it won a two-year extension by a solid bipartisan vote and appears firmly established on the national scene.

The capacity of the body politic to absorb ideas it once resisted is largely a matter of timing and leadership. It was President Johnson who supplied the leadership that launched the antipoverty and school bills, but is was Congress that put them through the fires of controversy and tempered the opposition.

Both bills were originally passed by the 89th Congress, which Johnson called, "My Congress." With their huge majority, Democrats not only had no need of Republican support, they pointedly shunned it, preferring to drive the Republicans into an opposition role in the belief it would damage the GOP in urban areas.

It may have been smart politics, but as a legislative procedure it produced a sharp partisan division that jeopardized both programs in the much more closely matched 89th Congress, particularly in the House.

The administration made no concessions to the changed conditions in the House and early in the session both programs appeared on their way to being severely mangled. Convinced that the administration was out of touch with the House and the nation, key Democrats on the Education and Labor Committee forced through the changes that smoothed the road to passage for both measures.

In each case the keys to broadened support were amendments increasing the role of state and local authorities in the programs and weakening the federal government's role.

The resulting legislation was far from satisfactory to many of its warmest supporters.

"If the antipoverty bill is hailed as a victory," noted the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, "it is because the worst things Congress was generally expected to do to the poverty program were somehow avoided."

And those who never liked either program found nothing to cheer about in their continuation for two more years.

But the lopsided votes by which each was approved indicated the programs had achieved the kind of endorsement that can lead to a long life on the statute books.

Outbreak Of Asian Flu Reported In 24 States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Communicable Disease Center reports outbreaks of Asian Flu and similar respiratory infections in 24 states and the District of Columbia but says the mortality rate does not appear to be unusually higher.

New York City health officials said the death rate there is higher than usual. There were 100 such deaths for the week ending Dec. 22, the New York officials said, and the tolerance zone for deaths from influenza and pneumonia for the week in the state is 88.

It is difficult, health officials say, to measure the seriousness of the outbreaks throughout the nation because schools are closed during the holidays. Schools usually are the best means of determining the rate of absenteeism.

The virus appears to be relatively mild in most instances, but health officials say this creates a problem.

"Most of the cases are so mild that people simply won't go to bed," said Dr. John E. McCroan of the Georgia Health Department. "They are walking around, spreading the bug around."

An estimated 15,000 cases have been reported in North Georgia with most of them in metropolitan Atlanta.

Documentation of Asian Flu has been made in Michigan, Florida, New Jersey, Alabama, New York, Oklahoma, Illinois, Kansas, Iowa and Georgia, the CDC says. Probable Asian Flu has been reported in Indiana, Virginia, Wisconsin, Louisiana and Missouri and possible Asian Flu has been noted in Ohio, Maryland, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Carolina and the District of Columbia.

Some increase in pneumonia and other respiratory diseases has been reported, but national health officials say pneumonia deaths are compiled with influenza deaths.

They say, however, that most of the illnesses are attributed to Asian Flu, which swept the West Coast in February 1966 and the eastern parts of the nation in the winter of 1965.

The CDC said this strain of flu has changed slightly and will be different in current epidemics. Dr. Stephen C. Schonbaum said flu vaccines also must be changed each year by their manufacturers.

A Toronto man injured at work was treated Thursday at City Hospital along with seven others.

James Clink of 610 Market St., Toronto, employed as an ironworker for the Dravo Corp., sustained a laceration above the nose when he fell from a swinging rope after being hit with a wrench.

Also treated were Connie Mattern, daughter of Norman Mattern of Wellsville RD 1, a contusion of the left leg while sledding; Linda Hickman, daughter of Clarence Hickman of East Liverpool, a laceration of the left ear while playing.

Allen Jarvis, son of Walter Jarvis of 1605 Chester Ave., Wellsville, a laceration of the right hand on a storm door; Mark McDonald, son of Julius McDonald of Irondale RD 1, a laceration of the lip in a fall on steps.

Grover Dyke, son of Harold Dyke of 200 W. 2nd St., a laceration of the left eyebrow in a fall; Dan Gill, son of Mrs. Anna Marie Gill of 629 Ohio Ave., a laceration of the left leg while sledding.

Mrs. Kenneth Goodlin of Chester, a right eye injury when she was struck with a plastic stick from a toy.

Young U.S. Navy Men

Sweden Considers What To Do With 4 Deserters

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish government is considering what to do with four young U.S. Navy deserters who jumped ship in Japan to protest American involvement in the Vietnam war and came to Sweden from Moscow seeking asylum.

Informants indicated that the four probably would be accepted by Sweden, but there was a chance they might be returned to Moscow.

Police took the bearded quartet to a police station to check their papers as soon as they stepped from a Scandinavian airliner early today.

Authorities said the youths left Moscow without applying for visas. They are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla., John M. Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md., Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif., and Michael A. Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

"They have put us in a rather unusual situation," said one official. "Usually political refugees claim they have been subject to persecution in the country they fled from. But as far as we know, the Americans have been treated well in the Soviet Union."

The young Americans quit the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Yokosuka, Japan, in October while it was there on leave from Vietnam duty. Japanese pacifists smuggled them out of the county, and they arrived in Moscow early in November. They criticized U.S. actions in Vietnam in appearances on Soviet television and with the Soviet press, but Western newsmen in Moscow were not allowed to interview them.

A member of the diplomatic colony in Moscow who encountered the sailors by chance said they were "fed up with Russia" and were anxious to reach Sweden.

The Swedish Committee for Vietnam, which opposes American participation in the war, said the sailors had appealed for help and that temporary housing had been arranged for them with Swedish families.

The four do not have American passports but have been issued Red Cross documents.

One Injured In 15 Mishaps Investigated By Ohio Patrol

A Lisbon man was hospitalized this morning after his car overturned along Route 164 north of Lisbon, one of 15 district mishaps investigated Thursday and today on the area's snow - covered roads by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

John M. Chamberlain, 21, of 433 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was taken to Salem City Hospital following the accident at 12:20 a. m. three miles north of Lisbon.

Chamberlain was headed south in a 1962 coach when the car skidded off the east side of the highway, struck two natural gas pipes and rolled over on its top.

James Guy Crawford, 18, of Rogers RD 1 escaped injury yesterday afternoon when his car struck a guardrail and tractor trailer truck on Route 30 in the Substation area.

Officers said he was headed north and attempted to pass the rig driven by Stanley Thomas, 31, of New Matamoras. He lost control on the slick roadway and the car hit the guardrail, then struck the truck.

Charles M. Lockhart Jr., 18, of Wellsville was cited for speeding after his 1962 convertible collided with a pickup truck on County Rd. 427.

The patrol said he was headed south when he lost control of the car on a curve and it slid across the road and hit the oncoming truck driven by Russell L. Jordan, 28, of RD 1.

Ralph C. Coursin, 22, of RD 1 was cited after his coach hit the rear of an Ohio Highway Department truck on Route 30 about three miles south of Route 7 at 9:30 p. m.

Coursin was headed south when he lost control on the icy pavement, officers said, and his car hit the rear of the truck operated by Homer Binegar, 55, of Wellsville RD 1.

Coursin was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

No one was injured in a collision of cars driven by Michael Bobby, 59, of Weirton and Howard J. Havice of Beacon Rd. on Route 7 some two miles north of Route 30 at 3:30 p.m.

Havice was attempting to pass Bobby when his 1956 coach swerved into the side of Bobby's 1955 coach, then went off the road.

The patrol also investigated minor mishaps in the Salem and Beloit areas.

Slick Streets Cause Three Auto Mishaps

NEW CUMBERLAND — One driver was hurt in three accidents here Thursday, all attributed to slippery streets.

Charles W. Solter, 36, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was treated and released at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville, for a nose injury and laceration of the face after a mishap on N. Chestnut St. about 5:30 p. m. He was not cited.

Police Chief William Webster said Solter reported he was forced off the road and his auto slid into a power pole, causing heavy damage to the car.

Earlier, two autos were involved in a collision on Ridge Ave.

A car driven by William P. Boring, 35, of 807 Ridge Ave. was struck from behind by another operated by Robert F. Curtis, 36, of Arlington, Va., about 4:40 p.m.

Boring said he stopped on the street and Curtis attempted to halt, but couldn't because of the icy conditions and his auto struck Boring's in the rear. Curtis was not cited. There was minor damage to the autos. Neither driver was injured.

A porch on a house was damaged early Thursday when an auto slid on snow and left the roadway at Pearl and N. Chestnut St.

Police said Samuel M. Swain Jr., 28, of Scotts Ln. here lost control of his auto on the snow-covered street and struck the porch at the home of Mrs. Lee Rawson. The porch received minor damage while Swain's auto received about $250 damage. He was not cited.

The mishap occurred about 5:10 a. m.

Voter Registrars Listed During Hancock Meeting

Lists presented by both the Democrat and Republican parties in Hancock County for voter registrars were accepted by the Hancock County Court of Commissioners meeting Wednesday night at New Cumberland.

The commissioners approved both lists as the parties presented them and set fees to be paid those involved. A total of 78 residents will canvass county homes under provisions of West Virginia law.

The registrars will be paid $10 for attending a school Jan. 9 in the Courthouse. During the canvass, they will receive 20 cents for each new registration and 12 cents each for changes and checking. The registrars, one from each party, work in teams.

They will begin work after their schooling on Jan. 9 and continue through March 31. If on their first contact they find no one at home, they will leave a card and the resident can either contact them or come to the New Cumberland Courthouse to register to vote.

The commissioners met with four Weirton insurance agents to discuss the county's coverage. The agents made recommendations, but the court decided more study is needed in some areas. Another meeting will be held.

William Boring was appointed sextant of the New Manchester Cemetery.

Commissioners will receive bids until Feb. 5 for a new roof for the Courthouse.

Charles Miller and Mrs. Jean Robison were reappointed to the children's home board.

The court extended the time for receiving bids for construction of the proposed $300,000 jail adjacent to the Courthouse.

The new date is Jan. 19. Originally the commissioners had asked for bids on Jan. 9 for the construction project, but bids for demolition of the old jail will not be received until then.

The demolition bids received during the December meeting were turned down after a disagreement by two commissioners and the court advertised for new bids returnable on Jan. 9 when a meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Courthouse.

The Courthouse will be closed Saturday and Monday in observance of the New Year holiday. The commissioners will meet Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Is there any way to quick-thaw frozen bread (without toasting it) when you find yourself in need of some in a hurry?

SANDWICH EATER.

The method I use is to remove it from the deep freezer and whack or slam the whole loaf of bread two or three times on a doorstep (that's what I use), or on the floor. The bread will divide easily.

Remove as many slices as you need for immediate use and lay them out on your drainboard. In about two minutes the the top side is thawed. Turn the slice over, wait another two minutes, then take it from there . . .

I do suggest that you never remove more slices than you need for immediate use. It stays fresh longer to let it thaw in its own wrapper.

If you've got a bit of time, remove the wrapper, wrap as much frozen bread as you need in foil and heat it in your oven. The outside will be crunchy and the inside soft just like grandma used to make. Mmm good!

Now, if you are talking about making sandwiches for packing lunches, don't even bother to thaw it. Make them on the frozen slices of bread itself. You'll find that even peanut butter spreads more smoothly without tearing up the bread.

And did you know if you make sandwiches for lunch on frozen bread that the chill in the bread itself helps to keep the spreads and luncheon meat fresh?

By placing the sandwich in a plastic bag immediately before the bread completely thaws, it will act as its own cooler. This is especially good if you put lettuce and tomatoes in your sandwich.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Every day when my school children walk in the door they deposit report cards or notes to be signed in a special box near the front door.

This box is also near the stairway, and every night on my way to bed I read my "incoming mail." I sign or write answering notes and put them back in the box.

Now there's NO mad hunting and scurrying every morning for a lost report card or a note which must be signed and returned to school.

JOAN.

DEAR HELOISE: This is how I made one of those long necklaces that are so popular now:

I unstrung an old three-strand necklace. Then restrung it in one long line, placing the large and small beads where I wanted them.

Nylon fishing line is the best to use because it won't break and there's no need for a needle.

CHRIS WEST.

-:-

Chris, it's fantabluous! I just did a four-strand one that way, and what fun it was while watching TV!

Looks great with a shift — or at my age should I say sack, bag or wrapper?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I started back to work when my baby was only a few weeks old. It was a chore to have to mix the day's formula, bottle it and carry so many bottles back and forth to my baby-sitter each day.

My mother suggested I mix the formula in a plastic jug and carry the formula in it.

I also took along two bottles for the baby-sitter who cleaned and sterilized them after each use.

This turned out to be a real timeseaver for me.

Also saves refrigerator space for the baby-sitter.

B. G.

DEAR HELOISE: I found when boiling eggs or just heating water in an aluminum pan that if I added a few drops of lemon juice, the pan would not turn dark from the water.

Saves scrubbing the pan with a soap pad.

SUSAN FRITSCH.

Crea f tarter works, too, Susan.

Queen Of Greece Has Miscarriage

ROME, (AP) — Queen Anne-Marie of Greece suffered a miscarriage Thursday night and lost the baby she was expecting in June, the Greek Embassy announced today.

The condition of the 21-year-old Danish-born wife of King Constantine was described as "completely satisfactory."

A spokesman at the Villa Claudia clinic north of Rome where the queen was taken Thursday, said she left the clinic before dawn and returned to the Greek Embassy with her husband.

Anne-Marie was rushed to the clinic when doctors said she was in danger of a miscarriage. She has two other children, Princess Alexia, 2, and Crown Prince Paul, seven months.

The royal family have been staying at the embassy since fleeing Greece Dec. 14 after Constantine's attempted countercoup against the Greek junta failed.

Police Hunt For Slayer Of Girl, 9

CHARLESTON (AP) — City police continued their search today for clues to the identity of a brutal killer who ravaged a 9-year-old girl, stabbed her four times and left the partially clothed body in a snow-covered lot two blocks from her home.

Helen Louise Miller, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Miller, had been sexually molested, an autopsy revealed Thursday. There were two stab wounds in the chest and two in the back.

Her body was found at about 8:30 a.m. Thursday by three small boys riding a sled in the neighborhood. Two hours before her mother had called the police department to say her daughter was missing from her bedroom, where she was last seen by the mother at midnight Wednesday.

Police Chief Dallas Bias said investigators believe the girl was stabbed with a heavy hunting knife which was stolen from an automobile parked 200 feet from where the body was found. The weapon has not been recovered.

The only other clues are bottles of aftershave lotion, shaving cream and a stick of underarm deodorant found beneath the body, said Bias. Investigators assume the killer either dropped or left the toilet articles there.

Bias said the girl's bedroom window was found open. He theorized she was either abducted or left willingly with the killer sometime between midnight and 3 a. m. Thursday before it started snowing. There were no footprints around the body and no marks of forced entry on the girl's window sill.

"She may even have known the killer," said Bias. "We are interviewing family and friends, but at present we have no particular suspect in mind."

Richard Wilson, father of one of the boys who found the body and the first adult on the scene, said he saw "what looked like dog prints around the body."

Cuban Vessels Land Agents In South America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard reports it has received indications Cuban fishing vessels have been used frequently to land subversive agents in Central and South American countries.

The rapid growth and expansion in activities of the Cuban fishing fleet was discussed by Coast Guard officers at a closed hearing of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

A transcript of the June 25 session, with classified material deleted, was made public today. The hearing was one in a series on "Communist Threat to the United States Through the Caribbean."

Cmdr. J. W. E. Ward of the Coast Guard told the subcommittee his branch was quite concerned with Cuban maritime activities for reasons that included "all the indications we have that the Cuban fishing fleet has been used on many occasions to infiltrate subversive agents and arms and ammunitions into the various Central and South American countries."

Keep In Trim

Happiness? The Right Size Dress

"My new attitude toward reducing is this: 'It's fun to be slim. . .it's not fun to be fat.' I tell myself this countless times during the day, and for the first time I do not feel like a martyr. I find that writing down my thoughts is good mental therapy. I feel that I am on the right track at last," a young homemaker enthused.

Ida Jean Kain

Your mind can make reducing a stimulating challenge, or a next to impossible task. First, you have to really want to act to lose excess weight. To reach that frame of mind you must have a conviction that reducing is worth the effort in terms of happiness.

—:—

THE AFOREMENTIONED dieter listed in one column the pleasures she was missing by being burdened with fat. In another column she wrote down the "advantages" of eating too much food. There it was. She faced the fact that she had allowed overeating to take much of the fun out of joyous living. She made up her mind that eating belt - bulging meals simply wasn't worth it. Reasoning from this new point of view, she found the temptation to overindulge diminished remarkably.

The cue is to concentrate on the rewards of being beautiful, normal weight, moving freely, wearing attractive clothes, and looking and feeling young. By dwelling on the pleasures that come with desirable weight, your mind is not obsessed with overindulgence.

One courageous dieter who has taken off 30 pounds and has an equal number to go, writes: "You have to make up your mind slowly, but surely, to change your ways of eating. Now that I am eating protectively, to build leanness, I am happier than I have ever been in my adult life. To my amazement I enjoy not overeating!" she confides.

HAPPILY, eating for desirable weight gets easier as you go along. The first five days, or even ten days may be difficult. I kid you not on that score. But on smaller meals the size of your stomach shrinks, and you begin to feel content with less food.

Then, too, with protective eating your food habits gradually change. Ere long you delight in the feeling of being slimmer—even after losing just 5 or 6 pounds. Then your mind responds to that stimulus, and enthusiastically you plan ahead. In other words, wishing has been changed to creative picturing and eager action.

If you wish the slimming pattern, send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for New Calorie Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Is there any way to quick-thaw frozen bread (without toasting it) when you find yourself in need of some in a hurry?

SANDWICH EATER.

The method I use is to remove it from the deep freezer and whack or slam the whole loaf of bread two or three times on a doorstep (that's what I use), or on the floor. The bread will divide easily.

Remove as many slices as you need for immediate use and lay them out on your drainboard. In about two minutes the the top side is thawed. Turn the slice over, wait another two minutes, then take it from there . . .

I do suggest that you never remove more slices than you need for immediate use. It stays fresh longer to let it thaw in its own wrapper.

If you've got a bit of time, remove the wrapper, wrap as much frozen bread as you need in foil and heat it in your oven. The outside will be crunchy and the inside soft just like grandma used to make. Mmm good!

Now, if you are talking about making sandwiches for packing lunches, don't even bother to thaw it. Make them on the frozen slices of bread itself. You'll find that even peanut butter spreads more smoothly without tearing up the bread.

And did you know if you make sandwiches for lunch on frozen bread that the chill in the bread itself helps to keep the spreads and luncheon meat fresh?

By placing the sandwich in a plastic bag immediately before the bread completely thaws, it will act as its own cooler. This is especially good if you put lettuce and tomatoes in your sandwich.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Every day when my school children walk in the door they deposit report cards or notes to be signed in a special box near the front door.

This box is also near the stairway, and every night on my way to bed I read my "incoming mail." I sign or write answering notes and put them back in the box.

Now there's NO mad hunting and scurrying every morning for a lost report card or a note which must be signed and returned to school.

JOAN.

DEAR HELOISE: This is how I made one of those long necklaces that are so popular now:

I unstrung an old three-strand necklace. Then restrung it in one long line, placing the large and small beads where I wanted them.

Nylon fishing line is the best to use because it won't break and there's no need for a needle.

CHRIS WEST.

-:-

Chris, it's fantabluous! I just did a four-strand one that way, and what fun it was while watching TV!

Looks great with a shift — or at my age should I say sack, bag or wrapper?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I started back to work when my baby was only a few weeks old. It was a chore to have to mix the day's formula, bottle it and carry so many bottles back and forth to my baby-sitter each day.

My mother suggested I mix the formula in a plastic jug and carry the formula in it.

I also took along two bottles for the baby-sitter who cleaned and sterilized them after each use.

This turned out to be a real timeseaver for me.

Also saves refrigerator space for the baby-sitter.

B. G.

DEAR HELOISE: I found when boiling eggs or just heating water in an aluminum pan that if I added a few drops of lemon juice, the pan would not turn dark from the water.

Saves scrubbing the pan with a soap pad.

SUSAN FRITSCH.

-:-

Crea f tarter works, too, Susan.

HELOISE.

Queen Of Greece Has Miscarriage

ROME, (AP) — Queen Anne-Marie of Greece suffered a miscarriage Thursday night and lost the baby she was expecting in June, the Greek Embassy announced today.

The condition of the 21-year-old Danish-born wife of King Constantine was described as "completely satisfactory."

A spokesman at the Villa Claudia clinic north of Rome where the queen was taken Thursday, said she left the clinic before dawn and returned to the Greek Embassy with her husband.

Anne-Marie was rushed to the clinic when doctors said she was in danger of a miscarriage. She has two other children, Princess Alexia, 2, and Crown Prince Paul, seven months.

The royal family have been staying at the embassy since fleeing Greece Dec. 14 after Constantine's attempted countercoup against the Greek junta failed.

Police Hunt For Slayer Of Girl, 9

CHARLESTON (AP) — City police continued their search today for clues to the identity of a brutal killer who ravaged a 9-year-old girl, stabbed her four times and left the partially clothed body in a snow-covered lot two blocks from her home.

Helen Louise Miller, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Miller, had been sexually molested, an autopsy revealed Thursday. There were two stab wounds in the chest and two in the back.

Her body was found at about 8:30 a.m. Thursday by three small boys riding a sled in the neighborhood. Two hours before her mother had called the police department to say her daughter was missing from her bedroom, where she was last seen by the mother at midnight Wednesday.

Police Chief Dallas Bias said investigators believe the girl was stabbed with a heavy hunting knife which was stolen from an automobile parked 200 feet from where the body was found. The weapon has not been recovered.

The only other clues are bottles of aftershave lotion, shaving cream and a stick of underarm deodorant found beneath the body, said Bias. Investigators assume the killer either dropped or left the toilet articles there.

Bias said the girl's bedroom window was found open. He theorized she was either abducted or left willingly with the killer sometime between midnight and 3 a. m. Thursday before it started snowing. There were no footprints around the body and no marks of forced entry on the girl's window sill.

"She may even have known the killer," said Bias. "We are interviewing family and friends, but at present we have no particular suspect in mind."

Richard Wilson, father of one of the boys who found the body and the first adult on the scene, said he saw "what looked like dog prints around the body."

Cuban Vessels Land Agents In South America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard reports it has received indications Cuban fishing vessels have been used frequently to land subversive agents in Central and South American countries.

The rapid growth and expansion in activities of the Cuban fishing fleet was discussed by Coast Guard officers at a closed hearing of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

A transcript of the June 25 session, with classified material deleted, was made public today. The hearing was one in a series on "Communist Threat to the United States Through the Caribbean."

Cmdr. J. W. E. Ward of the Coast Guard told the subcommittee his branch was quite concerned with Cuban maritime activities for reasons that included "all the indications we have that the Cuban fishing fleet has been used on many occasions to infiltrate subversive agents and arms and ammunitions into the various Central and South American countries."

Ancient Rome's aristocrats were called patricians and its common people plebeians.

Happiness? The Right Size Dress

"My new attitude toward reducing is this: 'It's fun to be slim. . .it's not fun to be fat.' I tell myself this countless times during the day, and for the first time I do not feel like a martyr. I find that writing down my thoughts is good mental therapy. I feel that I am on the right track at last," a young homemaker enthused.

Ida Jean Kain

Your mind can make reducing a stimulating challenge, or a next to impossible task. First, you have to really want to act to lose excess weight. To reach that frame of mind you must have a conviction that reducing is worth the effort in terms of happiness.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Many people start out by saying, "I never thought I would have to write to you," but I'm not one of those. I've long suspected that one day you would go too far and arouse my indignation to the point where I could no longer remain silent. Today's the day.

Strangely enough, it's not your narrow, antiquated views on sex that prompt me to write — it's the letter from the girl whose friend was embarrassed by her ragged underwear when she was admitted to the hospital emergency room.

She said, "Luckily Della suffered only a broken shoulder and dislocated hip but she wasn't concerned about her injuries. It was her faded and soiled underwear that caused her the most agony."

And then you, like a big boob, counseled: "Check your linen, girls. Are you wearing a girdle and bra you wouldn't mind modeling in an emergency ward?" All I can say is, "Good grief!"

Della should have been thankful to almighty God that she was alive instead of worrying about her underwear. And you backed her up!

I could care less about the condition of my underwear. It's way down on the list of things that count. I think you're both crazy. — RAGGED BUT CAREFREE.

Dear Ragged: If this column did nothing but point up the human frailties and kookiness of people it would serve a useful purpose. It's comforting to know that even the most balanced and stable individuals have a nutty hang-up or two.

And, incidentally, there is something to be said for tidy underwear. If you haven't tried it, don't knock it.

Welcome Handout

Dear Ann: I was glad to see a letter in your column which pointed out that a great many people who complain about the free loaders on relief speak from vague generalities. They have no evidence that the "free loader" is really a lazy good-for-nothing who would rather dog it than put in an honest day's work.

I was on welfare for two years and it meant the difference between life and death to me and my family. My husband sneaked out of the house one winter night and left a note saying he was going off with Veronica to make a new life. I had heard about Veronica but I felt sure his passion for her would cool, as it had for the three dollies who preceded her.

My husband left behind four children under 6 years of age and a stack of unpaid bills. It was December and the coal bin was nearly empty. There was very little food in the house and our relationship with the grocer was on a cash-only basis. We were what they call "slow pay."

When I married, my family told me I couldn't count on them for any help and they meant it. If I had not had the assistance of welfare I hate to think of what would have happened to me and my children.

So, thank you, Ann, for refusing to run with the herd who condemn everyone on relief. We are not all parasites.— X. Y. Z.

Dear X.: From the dawn of history there always have been people who would rather loaf than work. The shovel-leaner was not born of the WPA in 1933. He was around when the built the Pyramids and he'll be with us as long as man exists.

We must not withhold a helping hand to the ones who need it in order to protect ourselves from being taken in — and no one denies that we DO get taken in — plenty.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Judge Dismisses Suit Challenging Club Liquor Law

CHARLESTON (AP) — A Circuit Court judge has dismissed a church temperance group's lawsuit challenging the validity of West Virginia's private club liquor law, but an attorney representing the group said he plans to file an appeal with the State Supreme Court.

Judge Frank L. Taylor noted that the plaintiff, United Church Alcohol Action Program (UCAAP) "has a serious, corporate and personal, religious and philosophical interest in the results of this litigation."

However, he reaffirmed his Aug. 29 opinion that the temperance group did not show sufficient legal or property right to pursue such litigation.

UCAAP claims the present liquor law is unconstitutional because it does no have any safeguards to prevent "indiscriminate" issuance of liquor licenses.

Saxbe Gives Ruling On Open Meeting Law

COLUMBUS, Oio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, in an informal opinion issued Thursday, said Ohio's "open meeting" law does not apply to sessions held by school teacher organizations.

The ruling followed a protest by the WKBN Broadcasting Corp. of Youngstown that its newsmen were excluded from an election involving the Hubbard Teachers Association and the AFL-CIO Hubbard Federation of Teachers.

UAW Local Ratifies 3-Year Pact With GM

Members of Local 296 approved the national agreement by 85 per cent and a local agreement by 74 per cent.

Local 45 at the company's Fisher Body plant in Cleveland approved the contract by 60 per cent.

Ohio Bell introduces the "low" sign

You've heard of the "hi" sign.

Ohio Bell's new sign is the low sign. Arm downward, elbow slightly bent, palm down parallel to the ground.

It says clearer than anything, that we try to keep rates down.

Since 1959, while most everything else has zoomed in price, local telephone rates have remained unchanged and long distance rates have actually gone down. (Just this past November long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.)

It hasn't been easy. But we've been managing to hold prices down.

And thus, the low sign. We hope it catches on. For example, use it to say hello. Or when you're conducting an orchestra. Or when you're arguing about prices. You'll think of lots of uses.

Just remember, the "low" sign means "let's keep the costs down." We've been doing it. Your telephone is ringing proof of it.

It says clearer than anything, that we try to keep rates down.

Since 1959, while most everything else has zoomed in price, local telephone rates have remained unchanged and long distance rates have actually gone down. (Just this past November long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.)

It hasn't been easy. But we've been managing to hold prices down.

And thus, the low sign. We hope it catches on. For example, use it to say hello. Or when you're conducting an orchestra. Or when you're arguing about prices. You'll think of lots of uses.

Just remember, the "low" sign means "let's keep the costs down." We've been doing it. Your telephone is ringing proof of it.

Midland's Joe Yukica, former Penn State star, has been named head football coach at Boston College, suceeding Jim Miller, who was fired. Yukica played end at Penn State, graduating in 1951 after playing with such stars as Fran Rogel, Jesse Arnelle and Tony Rados. After serving as an assistant coach under Rip Engle at PSU, Yukica became head coach at New Hampshire U. for the past two seasons.

CONNIE HAWKINS of the Pittsburgh Pipers is third in both scoring and rebounding in the American Basketball Association. "The Hawk" is scoring 23.4 ppg and grabbing 12.1 rebounds a contest.

LATEST FRANCHISE shift rumor: The Oakland Seals of the National Hockey League, doing poorly financially, to Vancouver, B. C., where a $6,000,000 arena is being built.

JERRY LEVIAS, standout back for SMU this past season, is a cousin of two other fine football players, the Farr brothers. Mel Farr of the Detroit Lions was rookie of the year in the NFL and Miller Farr is a top cornerback on the AFL's Eastern Champion Houston Oilers.

ALONG WITH the Maravichs, father and son, another Beaver Countain helping the LSU basketball team this year is Rich Lupcho from Hopewell, a 5-7 guard.

The name Ricketts must mean something when it comes to shooting free throws. Dick Ricketts set an Ohio State school mark by making 51 of 56 in 1963. Dave Ricketts of Duquesne, no relation, set a college national record by making 42 straight in 1958. This mark has since been broken by Bob Lloyd of Rutgers. Dave Rickett's brother Dick, an All-American at Duquesne, was no slouch from the foul line either.

THE COACHES' consensus of the five meanest men in the NFL comes up with Dick Butkus of the Bears, Dave (Deacon) Jones of the Rams, Alex Karras of the Lions, Ray Nitschke of the Packers and Dave Wilcox of the 49ers.

NORTH CAROLINA State's win over Georgia in the Liberty Bowl marked the first time in 24 games that an Atlantic Coast Conference team had beaten a Southeastern Conference team.

JIM BUNNING, the newest Pirate, works for an investment firm in Cincinnati during the off season.

PIRATE PLAYERS continue to do well in the Winter Leagues. Matty Alou is hitting .380 to lead the Dominican League and Bob Robertson leads the same loop in home runs with 8. Manny Mota has been named player manager of the Licey entry in the D. R.

Jose Pagan is still the top hitter in the Puerto Rican league with a .364 mark, and Jaun Pizarro is 7-2 with a 1.78 ERA in that circuit.

Luis Tiant has the top ERA in the Venezuelan league with a 1.12 figure, but his won lost record is 3-4. Vic Davalillo leads that league in hitting with a .377 average.

AMERICAN LEAGUE hitters set a record for futility of some sort last year, when the league as a whole hit just .236, the lowest in history. Bill Freehan of the Tigers was in the Top 10 hitters in the league - - with a .273 average. It used to be a .273 average would get you a ticket to the minors.

JOE HORLEN of the White Sox not only led the American League in ERA in 1967 with a 2.06 mark, but he also was the top fielding pitcher in the league. He handled 82 chances flawlessly.

Sixteen and seventeen were unlucky numbers for the Midland and Uniontown in the opening games of the seventh annual Midland Holiday Tournament at Midland last night.

Midland led 16-15 early in the second period but Duquesne rolled up 18 straight points as the Leopards were blanked the rest of the half and wound up losing 78-42. Uniontown trailed 19-17 early in the second period and New Castle scored 15 straight points in 4½ minutes and coasted to an 83-61 win. The Red Hurricanes and the Little Dukes clash for the title in tomorrow's nightcap. Midland meets Uniontown in the consolation game at 7 p. m.

The hapless Leopards were blanked from the field during their disastrous second period, and could get off only three shots in the entire quarter. They couldn't penetrate Duquesne's 2-1-2 defense and committed nine turnovers in the stanza. In addition they were outrebounded 13-8 in the period. Overall the young Leopard club turned over the ball 27 times, while Duquesne committed 18 errors. The taller Dukes controlled the boards 60-38.

Bob Needs was the high scorer for the home team, with 12, and also had 10 rebounds. Dave Vanlier added 11 points. Gary Carothers and Bob Dillinger, both 6-3, had 16 and 10 rebounds respectively for the taller Mon Valley club. and 6-1 Ernest Tennon came off the bench to corral 12 loose balls. A guard, Leroy Wallace, was high scorer with 19, while Carothers had 15 and Dillinger 13. Duquesne used the fast break to great advantage and ended up hitting 44 per cent compared to 31 per cent by the losers.

Needs had five points and Dave Franitti four as Midland made a game of it in the first period and early in the second. But two baskets by Dillinger put Duquesne up for good and the Leopards couldn't find the basket. With 6 minutes to go in the third period Vanlier was credited with a goal on a goaltending call. but only 4:30 was left when Vanlier connected for a legitimate field goal, the first since about 3 minutes remained in the first period when the Leopards led 12-8. In the meantime Duquesne kept rolling and it was 70-30 before the subs came in. The winners are now 4-3. Midland 3-4.

NEW CASTLE, 7-0. tabbed as one of the top teams in the WPIAL. displayed plenty of speed, depth and shooting ability in a fast-paced opener. The Red Hurricane ran, ran and ran some more as Uuiontown was in foul trouble early and Abe Everhart was forced to call on a thin bench. New Castle was also in foul trouble, as the Vinovichs tended to over-officiate at times, but Connie Palumbo's substitutions didn't slow the pace of his attack noticeably. In fact, substitute Jack Hannon ended up as the leading rebounder for the Section 3 entry with 11.

Big guns for the Hurricanes were their guards, Dan Young and Lenny Payne. Young, averaging 28 points a game, was held to 4 in the first half but ended with 21. Payne also got 21 and made numerous assists and steals. George Eggleston added 10. The final score does not show the extent to which New Castle dominated the game, as it was 54-28 in the third period and 75-44 in the last period before Palumbo put in his last string.

Uniontown led in the early stages but a three-point play by Payne broke a 12-12 tie late in the first quarter and New Castle was ahead for good. Uniontown, led by 20 rebounds by the aptly named John Carom, controlled the boards 63-54, but couldn't match New Castle's 43 per cent shooting mark. The Red Raiders hit on 31 per cent. New Castle also utilizied the foul line better, with 29 conversions in 42 attempts to 17 of 37 for the losers.

Carom was high with 17 and Billy Emmett added 15 for Uniontown, now 5-4.

Toledo Wins, Xavier Loses

By The Associated Press

The Toledo Rockets ignored the college basketball tournament maze in which a couple of Ohio teams had a rough time Thursday night but still had to hustle to grab a victory on their home court.

The Rockets, playing host to Morris Harvey, had to overcome a 20-12 deficit early in the first half before coasting on to a 98-76 victory.

Toledo, behind 31 points from Steve Mix and 26 from John Brisker, forged out a 47-38 halftime advantage and put the game on ice to ring up its third straight triumph.

Along he tournament trail, Xavier, playing in the All-College fracas at Oklahoma City, gave up a 42-40 halftime advantage as Brigham Young rallied for an 87-85 victory.

Brigham Young, led by Kri Liimo and Scott Warner, turned a tight battle into a runaway after intermission. Liimo hit 24 points and Warner 21.

Musketeer high point man Tim O'Connell went out with a muscle cramp midway through the second half after scoring 20.

The Findlay Oilers, hosting their own tournament, put up a fierce battle but yielded to Kenyon 125-106 as the Lords, behind 46 points from John Dunlop and 43 from John Rinka, clinched the championship. Cedarville dumped Fish 97-83 in the consolation game.

St. Francis Tops Dukes; Iowa Upsets Tennessee

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston College, the nation's 10th-ranked team, will meet Louisville, led by All-American Westley Unseld, on the final day of the New York Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament. That was expected.

At stake will be third place in the annual ECAC event. That was not expected.

As a matter of fact, the unexpected popped up at various spots around the tournament circuit Thursday night as such powerhouses as Indiana, No. 3 in the country, and Tennessee, No. 4, were also defused a bit.

New York City basketball, known more for developing and losing the Lew Alcindors than for keeping them, enjoyed one of its finest moments at Madison Square Garden where St. John's beat Boston College for the second time this season, 60-57 and Columbia stopped Louisville 74-67.

The St. John's victory wasn't decided until the final minute when Rudy Bogad and Joe DePre put in six free throws, but it was still less nerve-wracking than the Indians' 91-90 victory in overtime earlier in the season.

"I guess they're the better team," BC Coach Bob Cousy said. "Almost doesn't count."

Columbia's victory was particularly satisfying, as the Lions made up a seven-point halftime deficit. Sophomore Jim McMillian scored 24 points, though Louisville's Unseld topped all the scorers with 25.

Indiana's six-game winning streak came to a rude end in the All Sports Association tournament in Dallas, Tex., where Western Kentucky, 6-2, took the lead early and never lost it, winning 110-91.

Wayne Chapman scored 34 points for the winners and Rich Hendrick added 26.

Tennessee carried Iowa into overtime at the Los Angeles Classic, before losing its first in five games 64-59. Baskets in overtime by Dick Jensen, Sam Williams and Ron Norman won for the Hawkeyes. Williams led the scorers with 25 points.

But the road was not so rough for some of the other Top Ten teams Friday. Fifth-ranked North Carolina beat Stanford 87-78 and Utah, No. 7, edged Oregon, 64-63 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

In other tournament action Friday, St. Francis downed Duquesne 86-83 to move in the Quaker City final in Philadelphia against Temple, which beat Wisconsin 82-80. St. Joseph's, Pa., won the Gator Bowl tourney at Jacksonville, Fla., from Washington 79-74.

The University of Connecticut beat William and Mary 51-49 in the Connecticut Basketball Classic at Storrs, Conn., and TCU beat Massachusetts 66-65. Alabama won the Mobile, Alam, Classic, downing Tulane 90-83.

Passes Order Of Day In Games Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

The last big weekend of the college football season begins Saturday, and indications are that the fan who makes a day of it in front of his television set will see passes, passes and more passes.

It will be a battle of quarterbacks all over the country as Penn State and Florida State meet in the Gator Bowl, Texas-El Paso and Mississippi clash in the Sun Bowl, North plays South in the Blue-Gray Game and East meets West in the Shrine Game.

Kim Hammond, who threw 140 complete passes for 1,991 yards and 15 touchdowns during the regular season, leads Florida State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. (ABC-TV 2 p.m., EST). Ron Sellers, Hammond's favorite target, caught 70 throws for 1,228 yards and eight touchdowns.

But the Penn State passer, Tom Sherman, is no slouch either. He hit on 104 passes for 1,616 yards and 13 touchdowns during the season. Jack Curry caught 41 of them and Ted Kwalick hauled in 33.

In the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., to be carried on a special network of 125 television stations, the Texas-El Paso squad has a pair of passers that rank with the best around—Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson. They threw a total of 26 touchdown passes this season.

Stevens threw six TD passes in a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in one game and in the next contest, with Stevens hurt, Dawson threw six against New Mexico. The team led the country in scoring average and total offense.

Mississippi's quarterback Bruce Newell passed for 663 yards and six touchdowns during the season and also gained 793 on the ground. Tailback Steve Hindman ran for 829 yards for the Rebels.

In the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., (CBS-TV, 2 p.m., EST) Toledo's John Schneider was picked by Coach Glann Dobbs of Tulsa, as starting quarterback, but Sal Olivas of New Mexico State, the country's total offense leader, will get some action, too.

Gray Coach Vince Dooley of Georgia has to pick between Ronny South of Arkansas and John Scovell of Texas Tech.

In the Shrine Game at San Francisco, (NBC-TV 4:30 p.m. EST) Jimmy Raye of Michigan State will go for the East team. And for the West? Fellow name of Garv Reban will be the quarterback. Played for UCLA.

The college football season ends Monday when Alabama plays Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl, Wyoming meets Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl. Oklahoma plays Tennessee in the Orange Bowl and Southern Cal plays Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

Northwestern has won only two Big 10 basketball titles since 1913.

Toledo Wins, Xavier Loses

By The Associated Press

The Toledo Rockets ignored the college basketball tournament maze in which a couple of Ohio teams had a rough time Thursday night but still had to hustle to grab a victory on their home court.

The Rockets, playing host to Morris Harvey, had to overcome a 20-12 deficit early in the first half before coasting on to a 98-76 victory.

Toledo, behind 31 points from Steve Mix and 26 from John Brisker, forged out a 47-38 halftime advantage and put the game on ice to ring up its third straight triumph.

Along he tournament trail, Xavier, playing in the All-College fracas at Oklahoma City, gave up a 42-40 halftime advantage as Brigham Young rallied for an 87-85 victory.

Brigham Young, led by Kri Liimo and Scott Warner, turned a tight battle into a runaway after intermission. Liimo hit 24 points and Warner 21.

Musketeer high point man Tim O'Connell went out with a muscle cramp midway through the second half after scoring 20.

St. Francis Tops Dukes; Iowa Upsets Tennessee

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston College, the nation's 10th-ranked team, will meet Louisville, led by All-American Westley Unseld, on the final day of the New York Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament. That was expected.

At stake will be third place in the annual ECAC event. That was not expected.

As a matter of fact, the unexpected popped up at various spots around the tournament circuit Thursday night as such powerhouses as Indiana, No. 3 in the country, and Tennessee, No. 4, were also defused a bit.

New York City basketball, known more for developing and losing the Lew Alcindors than for keeping them, enjoyed one of its finest moments at Madison Square Garden where St. John's beat Boston College for the second time this season, 60-57 and Columbia stopped Louisville 74-67.

The St. John's victory wasn't decided until the final minute when Rudy Bogad and Joe DePre put in six free throws, but it was still less nerve-wracking than the Indians' 91-90 victory in overtime earlier in the season.

"I guess they're the better team," BC Coach Bob Cousy said. "Almost doesn't count."

Columbia's victory was particularly satisfying, as the Lions made up a seven-point halftime deficit. Sophomore Jim McMillian scored 24 points, though Louisville's Unseld topped all the scorers with 25.

Indiana's six-game winning streak came to a rude end in the All Sports Association tournament in Dallas, Tex., where Western Kentucky, 6-2, took the lead early and never lost it, winning 110-91.

Wayne Chapman scored 34 points for the winners and Rich Hendrick added 26.

Tennessee carried Iowa into overtime at the Los Angeles Classic, before losing its first in five games 64-59. Baskets in overtime by Dick Jensen, Sam Williams and Ron Norman won for the Hawkeyes. Williams led the scorers with 25 points.

But the road was not so rough for some of the other Top Ten teams Friday. Fifth-ranked North Carolina beat Stanford 87-78 and Utah, No. 7, edged Oregon, 64-63 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

In other tournament action Friday, St. Francis downed Duquesne 86-83 to move in the Quaker City final in Philadelphia against Temple, which beat Wisconsin 82-80. St. Joseph's, Pa., won the Gator Bowl tourney at Jacksonville, Fla., from Washington 79-74.

The University of Connecticut beat William and Mary 51-49 in the Connecticut Basketball Classic at Storrs, Conn., and TCU beat Massachusetts 66-65. Alabama won the Mobile, Alam, Classic, downing Tulane 90-83.

Passes Order Of Day In Games Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

The last big weekend of the college football season begins Saturday, and indications are that the fan who makes a day of it in front of his television set will see passes, passes and more passes.

It will be a battle of quarterbacks all over the country as Penn State and Florida State meet in the Gator Bowl, Texas-El Paso and Mississippi clash in the Sun Bowl, North plays South in the Blue-Gray Game and East meets West in the Shrine Game.

Kim Hammond, who threw 140 complete passes for 1,991 yards and 15 touchdowns during the regular season, leads Florida State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. (ABC-TV 2 p.m., EST). Ron Sellers, Hammond's favorite target, caught 70 throws for 1,228 yards and eight touchdowns.

But the Penn State passer, Tom Sherman, is no slouch either. He hit on 104 passes for 1,616 yards and 13 touchdowns during the season. Jack Curry caught 41 of them and Ted Kwalick hauled in 33.

In the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., to be carried on a special network of 125 television stations, the Texas-El Paso squad has a pair of passers that rank with the best around—Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson. They threw a total of 26 touchdown passes this season.

Stevens threw six TD passes in a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in one game and in the next contest, with Stevens hurt, Dawson threw six against New Mexico. The team led the country in scoring average and total offense.

Mississippi's quarterback Bruce Newell passed for 663 yards and six touchdowns during the season and also gained 793 on the ground. Tailback Steve Hindman ran for 829 yards for the Rebels.

In the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., (CBS-TV, 2 p.m., EST) Toledo's John Schneider was picked by Coach Glann Dobbs of Tulsa, as starting quarterback, but Sal Olivas of New Mexico State, the country's total offense leader, will get some action, too.

Gray Coach Vince Dooley of Georgia has to pick between Ronny South of Arkansas and John Scovell of Texas Tech.

In the Shrine Game at San Francisco, (NBC-TV 4:30 p.m. EST) Jimmy Raye of Michigan State will go for the East team. And for the West? Fellow name of Gary Reban will be the quarterback. Played for UCLA.

The college football season ends Monday when Alabama plays Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl, Wyoming meets Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl. Oklahoma plays Tennessee in the Orange Bowl and Southern Cal plays Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

Northwestern has won only two Big 10 basketball titles since 1913.

Packers, Raiders Picked To Meet In Super Bowl

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay and Oakland should meet in the Super Bowl Jan. 14 at Miami if form holds up in the two league championship games to be played Sunday.

The past records in the picking league and the won and lost figures don't mean a thing at this stage so let's toss them out the window and concentrate on the job at hand.

Both games will be played Sunday with national television coverage in a doubleheader that will call for a flick of the dial. The Green Bay-Dallas game at Green Bay for the National Football League title goes on first at 2 p.m., EST, and will be seen on CBS. The Oakland-Houston game at Oakland for the American Football League crown starts at 5 p.m., EST, with NBC covering.

Here's the way it looks to the Hand picker, who went down with the Rams and won with the Cowboys last week:

NFL

Offense—Cowboys may have the edge over Packers with erratic Don Meredith apparently back on beam and runners like Dan Reeves, Don Perkins and young Craig Baynham plus receivers like Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel. However, Bart Starr is winging the ball again and picking defenses apart like he did last year after a so-so season. Injuries forced Vince Lombardi to shuffle his thin crop of running backs, but he has a big winner in rookie Travis Williams, who can break it open any minute as a ball carrier or kickoff return whiz.

Packers' rebuilt offensive line with Bob Hyland at center and Gale Killingham at guard teamed up with veterans Forrest Gregg, Jerry Kramer and Bob Skoronski handled the Rams' Fearsome Foursome with room to spare last week. Dallas provides greater protection for Meredith with Ralph Neely having proved last year he could handle Willie Davis.

Defense—Up front the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense centers on tackle Bob Lilly with help from Willie Townes, Jethro Pugh and George Andrie. Packers front four of Willie Davis, Ron Kostelnik, Henry Jordan and Lionel Aldridge about even with Dallas. Linebackers of Packers are superior and Green Bay's deep defense is better.

Kicking—Don Chandler more consistent than Danny Villanueva on field goals, but season figures show Villanueva the edge over Donny Anderson in punting.

Summing it up, the Packers new find, Travis Williams, Starr's ability to read defense and veteran Green Bay defense and the home field edge in bitter cold weather suggest this score:

Green Bay 27, Dallas 17

AFL

Offense—Oakland has overcome loss of Clem Daniels' with a solid air game directed by Daryle Lamonica pitching to Hewitt Dixon and Billy Cannon. Oilers eke it out along the ground with Woodie Campbell and Hoyle Granger doing the heavy work while Pete Beathard wings the ball. Houston's offensive line does a good job protecting its passer, but Lamonica often has to unload in hurry.

Defense—Oilers have done superb job with fine first-year effort by linebacker George Webster. When two clubs met in regular season game Dec. 10, Raiders had to go to George Blanda for four field goals to pull it out in second half 19-7. A bruising battle up front, but Oakland's linebackers appear to have the edge. John Wittenborn not a Blanda in the field goal league where Raiders have made good 20 times.

Summing it up—Raiders are at home and AlDavis, the general manager and former AFL president, is aching to get shot at NFL in the Super Bowl. Superior offense against Wally Lemm's stingy Houston defense suggests this score:

Oakland 30, Houston 17.

Donny Anderson Up For Cowboys Game

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Donny Anderson of Green Bay doesn't need any special incentive Sunday when the Packers meet the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League crown. But he has one anyway.

The Cowboys are from Texas. So is Anderson.

"That's my home state and I'm a home state ball player," the former Texas Tech All American said.

The main inspiration comes from the quality of the opposition and the situation itself. Anderson, who signed with the Packers for a reported $583,000, after the 1965 collegiate season, put it simply: "Dallas is a good team."

The good team as opposition in the big game is all the motivation a professional needs, and Anderson was taking the attitude of the professional.

"You play in high school because you want to play. In college, it gets to be a little bit of a business. And as a pro, it gets to be your life. Most people I know in pro ball depend on it as their main source of income. You have to do well. If you don't that's it."

Anderson, the heir apparent to Paul Hornung at halfback, didn't get a starting shot until an injury sidelined Elijah Pitts for the season Nov. 5.

Since then, the sophomore has been steady if unspectacular in a starting role. He finished the regular season with 402 yards gained in 97 rushes and caught 22 passes for 331 yards. Anderson scored six touchdowns. He also did the team's punting and compiled a 37 yard average.

Cinderella Team Oilers Surprised Optimists

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers take a brief workout today and then fly to Oakland for their fourth American Football League championship game in eight years.

Four months ago practically everyone with the club would have thought such a mission impossible.

The Oilers were 3-11 cellar dwellers a year ago and many fans thought Coach Wally Lemm was a bit optimistic when he indicated a 7-7 break even would be a pretty good season.

Don Klosterman, the general manager, had nothing more than hopes for improvement that would amount to a major step in a four-year rebuilding program.

Klosterman was called in early last year to start the reconstruction program after 6-8, 4-10, and 4-10 seasons had followed two AFL championships and a third Eastern Division title.

The defensive unit for the comeback Oilers jelled rather quickly, the 15 rookies performed amazingly well all season, and quarterback Pete Beathard began making the offense move after being acquired in October from Kansas City.

"I've been surprised but very, very pleased," Klosterman said. "When we began rebuilding we figured it would take about four years."

The Oilers gave up only 199 points all season, the first time any AFL defense has been under 200 points.

USC's Scarpace Sidelined For Bowl

By JACK STEVENSON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Injury has claimed another University of Southern California football standout as 250-pound guard Mike Scarpace went to surgery today to repair a knee ligament torn in practice for the Rose Bowl.

Scarpace joins flanker Jim Lawrence and defensive end Jim Gunn on the sideline crew of the national champions who battle Indiana in the New Year's Day classic.

Lawrence hurt a knee in the ninth game of the season against Oregon State and Gunn suffered the same type of injury against UCLA in the finale.

Coach John McKay reported Scarpace, an All-Pacific-8 performer on offense, was hurt in a Thursday scrimmage.

One knee-injury victim will be back in action — fullback Mike Hull who was operated on early in the season after being a standout in 1966.

Scarpace was an important cog in leading sweeps and clearing the way for O.J. Simpson, the halfback who led the nation in rushing this past season. The big guard will be replaced by senior Dennis Born, a 237-pounder.

Indiana fans continued pouring into Pasadena with 7,500 expected from the Hoosier state for the game. Although Coach John Pont had declared Thursday's practice would be closed, he relented and allowed he Indiana partisans to watch.

Even the school's cheer leaders were on hand to lead yells, but today, say Pont, the workout would indeed be closed to spectators. After Saturday's drill, the team will go to a monastery to await the game.

Southern California also was to work out today and Saturday.

Robertson Gets 41; Royals Top Warriors

By The Associated Press

Red Holzman hasn't really begun work yet in his new job as coach of the New York Knickerbockers. Yet, he's already one-half game worse off than when he took over.

That's because the streaking Cincinnati Royals beat the San Francisco Warriors 126-122 Thursday night. The triumph increased the fourth-place Royals lead over fifth-place New York to 2½ games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Only the top four qualify for the postseason playoffs.

In the only other game, one matching expansion teams, the San Diego Rockets defeated the Seattle Super Sonics 143-125.

Holzman replaced Dick McGuire as the Knicks' coach Wednesday after New York lost to Philadelphia, its 3rd defeat against 15 victories.

The Royals picked up their 16th triumph and third in a row against 19 setbacks by edging the Warriors at Cleveland. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati, tying his season high of 41 points. Guy Rodgers hit on two free throws with nine seconds left to clinch the verdict.

The defeat ended San Francisco's five-game winnng streak.

Tremblays Pace Win For Lowly Canadiens

By The Associated Press

Gilles Tremblay and Jean-Claude Tremblay of the Montreal Canadiens are not related. But, oh brother, did they take the stars out of the North Stars' eyes!

The Canadiens, uncharacteristically move up in struggling to the National Hockey League's East Division race, were trailing Minnesota 2-1 after one period Thursday night. Then, the Tremblays went to work. Jean-Claude, a defenseman, tied it at 2-2 after only 34 seconds of the second period. Gilles, a left winger, got hot later in the session. He scored three times within less than four minutes at 14:03, 15:04 and 17:44 of the second session, lifting his season total to 11.

Defenseman Gary Bergman was Detroit's star. He scored the final two goals of the game, the first snapping a 3-3 tie late in the second period and the second in the seventh minute of the third period.

The Detroit Red Wings defeated the Philadelphia Flyers 5-3 in the only other game.

Verga's Hot Shooting Leads Chaparral Win

By The Associated Press

Bob Verga of the Dallas Chaparrals apparently intends to continue his effective shooting right up to the time he goes into the U.S. Army next week.

Verga, the American Basketball Association's second leading scorer, contributed 37 points Thursday night when Dallas edged the Indiana Pacers 127-125 on Cincy Powell's layup in overtime.

In other games, Minnesota, leading the Circuit's Eastern Division, defeated New Orleans 115-101, Houston beat Anaheim 104-93 and Denver downed New Jersey, 119-102.

Powell hit on his clinching basket for Dallas with only 35 seconds left in overtime. The Pacers, who were paced by Bob Netolicky's 37 points, had one last try at tying the game. But Fred Lewis' jump shot bounced off the basket and the rebound was grabbed by Dallas' John Beasley.

Verga is scheduled to leave Jan. 5 for six months of Army reserve training.

Sam Smith came off the bench in the fourth quarter and ignited a 10-pound scoring burst that carried the Muskies to victory over New Orleans. Smith scored eight of the 10 points as Minnesota increased an 86-83 lead. The triumph was the Muskies' fourth straight and increased their divisional lead to 1½ games over Pittsburgh.

Mel Daniels topped Minnesota with 26 points. Jimmy Jones was high for the Bucs, also with 26.

Joe Hamood, a second stringer, starred for Houston. He got 17 of his 19 points in the decisive fourth quarter during which the Mavericks outscored Anaheim, 30-21. Art Becker led the winners with 22 points while Warren Davis was the Amigos' high man with 17.

Denver used a successful fast break in the third quarter to toll past New Jersey. Larry Jones paced the winning Rockets with 31 points.

Calvello Waterford Top Jockey

A new jockey king has been crowned at Waterford Park, where thoroughbred racing resumes today after being shut down Thursday due to weather.

Joseph Calvello, 17 - year - old apprentice rider from New Jersey, has won the jockey championship for the Fall and Winter meeting which comes to a close Saturday. It marks the first time in three years an apprentice rider has won a jockey title at Waterford Park.

Calvello was assured the title Thursday when word was received from jockey William Sollars that he would not be back at Waterford for the balance of the year. Sollars, a veteran from St. Joseph, Mo. went home during the Christmas week vacation. At that time he was one mount behind Calvello.

Sollars won the crown for the summer meeting which ended on Labor Day. An injury in a spill prompted Sollars to continue his vacation at his Missouri Home. He will return in Februrary.

Packers, Raiders Picked To Meet In Super Bowl

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay and Oakland should meet in the Super Bowl Jan. 14 at Miami if form holds up in the two league championship games to be played Sunday.

The past records in the picking league and the won and lost figures don't mean a thing at this stage so let's toss them out the window and concentrate on the job at hand.

Both games will be played Sunday with national television coverage in a doubleheader that will call for a flick of the dial. The Green Bay-Dallas game at Green Bay for the National Football League title goes on first at 2 p.m., EST, and will be seen on CBS. The Oakland-Houston game at Oakland for the American Football League crown starts at 5 p.m., EST, with NBC covering.

Here's the way it looks to the Hand picker, who went down with the Rams and won with the Cowboys last week:

NFL

Offense—Cowboys may have the edge over Packers with erratic Don Meredith apparently back on beam and runners like Dan Reeves, Don Perkins and young Craig Baynham plus receivers like Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel. However, Bart Starr is winging the ball again and picking defenses apart like he did last year after a so-so season. Injuries forced Vince Lombardi to shuffle his thin crop of running backs, but he has a big winner in rookie Travis Williams, who can break it open any minute as a ball carrier or kickoff return whiz.

Packers' rebuilt offensive line with Bob Hyland at center and Gale Killingham at guard teamed up with veterans Forrest Gregg, Jerry Kramer and Bob Skoronski handled the Rams' Fearsome Foursome with room to spare last week. Dallas provides greater protection for Meredith with Ralph Neely having proved last year he could handle Willie Davis.

Defense—Up front the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense centers on tackle Bob Lilly with help from Willie Townes, Jethro Pugh and George Andrie. Packers front four of Willie Davis, Ron Kostelnik, Henry Jordan and Lionel Aldridge about even with Dallas. Linebackers of Packers are superior and Green Bay's deep defense is better.

Kicking—Don Chandler more consistent than Danny Villanueva on field goals, but season figures show Villanueva the edge over Donny Anderson in punting.

Summing it up, the Packers new find, Travis Williams, Starr's ability to read defense and veteran Green Bay defense and the home field edge in bitter cold weather suggest this score:

Green Bay 27, Dallas 17

AFL

Offense—Oakland has overcome loss of Clem Daniels' with a solid air game directed by Daryle Lamonica pitching to Hewitt Dixon and Billy Cannon. Oilers eke it out along the ground with Woodie Campbell and Hoyle Granger doing the heavy work while Pete Beathard wings the ball. Houston's offensive line does a good job protecting its passer, but Lamonica often has to unload in hurry.

Defense—Oilers have done superb job with fine first-year effort by linebacker George Webster. When two clubs met in regular season game Dec. 10, Raiders had to go to George Blanda for four field goals to pull it out in second half 19-7. A bruising battle up front, but Oakland's linebackers appear to have the edge. John Wittenborn not a Blanda in the field goal league where Raiders have made good 20 times.

Summing it up—Raiders are at home and AlDavis, the general manager and former AFL president, is aching to get shot at NFL in the Super Bowl. Superior offense against Wally Lemm's stingy Houston defense suggests this score:

Oakland 30, Houston 17.

Cinderella Team Oilers Surprised Optimists

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers take a brief workout today and then fly to Oakland for their fourth American Football League championship game in eight years.

Four months ago practically everyone with the club would have thought such a mission impossible.

The Oilers were 3-11 cellar dwellers a year ago and many fans thought Coach Wally Lemm was a bit optimistic when he indicated a 7-7 break even would be a pretty good season.

Don Klosterman, the general manager, had nothing more than hopes for improvement that would amount to a major step in a four-year rebuilding program.

Klosterman was called in early last year to start the reconstruction program after 6-8, 4-10, and 4-10 seasons had followed two AFL championships and a third Eastern Division title.

The defensive unit for the comeback Oilers jelled rather quickly, the 15 rookies performed amazingly well all season, and quarterback Pete Beathard began making the offense move after being acquired in October from Kansas City.

"I've been surprised but very, very pleased," Klosterman said. "When we began rebuilding we figured it would take about four years."

The Oilers gave up only 199 points all season, the first time any AFL defense has been under 200 points.

Robertson Gets 41; Royals Top Warriors

By The Associated Press

Red Holzman hasn't really begun work yet in his new job as coach of the New York Knickerbockers. Yet, he's already one-half game worse off than when he took over.

That's because the streaking Cincinnati Royals beat the San Francisco Warriors 126-122 Thursday night. The triumph increased the fourth-place Royals lead over fifth-place New York to 2½ games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Only the top four qualify for the postseason playoffs.

In the only other game, one matching expansion teams, the San Diego Rockets defeated the Seattle Super Sonics 143-125.

Holzman replaced Dick McGuire as the Knicks' coach Wednesday after New York lost to Philadelphia, its 3rd defeat against 15 victories.

The Royals picked up their 16th triumph and third in a row against 19 setbacks by edging the Warriors at Cleveland. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati, tying his season high of 41 points. Guy Rodgers hit on two free throws with nine seconds left to clinch the verdict.

The defeat ended San Francisco's five-game winnng streak.

Tremblays Pace Win For Lowly Canadiens

By The Associated Press

Gilles Tremblay and Jean-Claude Tremblay of the Montreal Canadiens are not related. But, oh brother, did they take the stars out of the North Stars' eyes!

The Canadiens, uncharacteristically move up in struggling to the National Hockey League's East Division race, were trailing Minnesota 2-1 after one period Thursday night. Then, the Tremblays went to work. Jean-Claude, a defenseman, tied it at 2-2 after only 34 seconds of the second period. Gilles, a left winger, got hot later in the session. He scored three times within less than four minutes at 14:03, 15:04 and 17:44 of the second session, lifting his season total to 11.

Defenseman Gary Bergman was Detroit's star. He scored the final two goals of the game, and powered Montreal to a 6-2 victory.

The Detroit Red Wings defeated the Philadelphia Flyers 5-3 in the only other game.

Gilles Tremblay's goals came the first snapping a 3-3 tie late in the second period and the second in the seventh minute of the third period.

Donny Anderson Up For Cowboys Game

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Donny Anderson of Green Bay doesn't need any special incentive Sunday when the Packers meet the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League crown. But he has one anyway.

The Cowboys are from Texas. So is Anderson.

"That's my home state and I'm a home state ball player," the former Texas Tech All American said.

The main inspiration comes from the quality of the opposition and the situation itself. Anderson, who signed with the Packers for a reported $583,000, after the 1965 collegiate season, put it simply: "Dallas is a good team."

The good team as opposition in the big game is all the motivation a professional needs, and Anderson was taking the attitude of the professional.

"You play in high school because you want to play. In college, it gets to be a little bit of a business. And as a pro, it gets to be your life. Most people I know in pro ball depend on it as their main source of income. You have to do well. If you don't that's it."

Anderson, the heir apparent to Paul Hornung at halfback, didn't get a starting shot until an injury sidelined Elijah Pitts for the season Nov. 5.

Since then, the sophomore has been steady if unspectacular in a starting role. He finished the regular season with 402 yards gained in 97 rushes and caught 22 passes for 331 yards. Anderson scored six touchdowns. He also did the team's punting and compiled a 37 yard average.

USC's Scarpace Sidelined For Bowl

By JACK STEVENSON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Injury has claimed another University of Southern California football standout as 250-pound guard Mike Scarpace went to surgery today to repair a knee ligament torn in practice for the Rose Bowl.

Scarpace joins flanker Jim Lawrence and defensive end Jim Gunn on the sideline crew of the national champions who battle Indiana in the New Year's Day classic.

Lawrence hurt a knee in the ninth game of the season against Oregon State and Gunn suffered the same type of injury against UCLA in the finale.

Coach John McKay reported Scarpace, an All-Pacific-8 performer on offense, was hurt in a Thursday scrimmage.

One knee-injury victim will be back in action — fullback Mike Hull who was operated on early in the season after being a standout in 1966.

Scarpace was an important cog in leading sweeps and clearing the way for O.J. Simpson, the halfback who led the nation in rushing this past season. The big guard will be replaced by senior Dennis Born, a 237-pounder.

Indiana fans continued pouring into Pasadena with 7,500 expected from the Hoosier state for the game. Although Coach John Pont had declared Thursday's practice would be closed, he relented and allowed he Indiana partisans to watch.

Even the school's cheer leaders were on hand to lead yells, but today, say Pont, the workout would indeed be closed to spectators. After Saturday's drill, the team will go to a monastery to await the game.

Southern California also was to work out today and Saturday.

Verga's Hot Shooting Leads Chaparral Win

By The Associated Press

Bob Verga of the Dallas Chaparrals apparently intends to continue his effective shooting right up to the time he goes into the U.S. Army next week.

Verga, the American Basketball Association's second leading scorer, contributed 37 points Thursday night when Dallas edged the Indiana Pacers 127-125 on Cincy Powell's layup in overtime.

In other games, Minnesota, leading the Circuit's Eastern Division, defeated New Orleans 115-101, Houston beat Anaheim 104-93 and Denver downed New Jersey, 119-102.

Powell hit on his clinching basket for Dallas with only 35 seconds left in overtime. The Pacers, who were paced by Bob Netolicky's 37 points, had one last try at tying the game. But Fred Lewis' jump shot bounced off the basket and the rebound was grabbed by Dallas' John Beasley.

Verga is scheduled to leave Jan. 5 for six months of Army reserve training.

Sam Smith came off the bench in the fourth quarter and ignited a 10-pound scoring burst that carried the Muskies to victory over New Orleans. Smith scored eight of the 10 points as Minnesota increased an 86-83 lead. The triumph was the Muskies' fourth straight and increased their divisional lead to 1½ games over Pittsburgh.

Mel Daniels topped Minnesota with 26 points. Jimmy Jones was high for the Bucs, also with 26.

Joe Hamood, a second stringer, starred for Houston. He got 17 of his 19 points in the decisive fourth quarter during which the Mavericks outscored Anaheim, 30-21. Art Becker led the winners with 22 points while Warren Davis was the Amigos' high man with 17.

Denver used a successful fast break in the third quarter to toll past New Jersey. Larry Jones paced the winning Rockets with 31 points.

Calvello Waterford Top Jockey

A new jockey king has been crowned at Waterford Park, where thoroughbred racing resumes today after being shut down Thursday due to weather.

Joseph Calvello, 17 - year - old apprentice rider from New Jersey, has won the jockey championship for the Fall and Winter meeting which comes to a close Saturday. It marks the first time in three years an apprentice rider has won a jockey title at Waterford Park.

Calvello was assured the title Thursday when word was received from jockey William Sollars that he would not be back at Waterford for the balance of the year. Sollars, a veteran from St. Joseph, Mo. went home during the Christmas week vacation. At that time he was one mount behind Calvello.

Sollars won the crown for the summer meeting which ended on Labor Day. An injury in a spill prompted Sollars to continue his vacation at his Missouri Home. He will return in Februrary.

3 Ohio Men Are Killed In Plane Crash

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Three Ohio men perished Thursday night when their twin-engine Piper Navajo plane crashed into a farm field during a severe snowstorm.

The plane fell on the edge of a pond in Port Penn, outside of Muncy, a North-central Pennsylvania community some 20 miles south of Williamsport. Poor visibility had prevented the craft's landing at Williamsport Airport, its desination.

Killed were the pilot, Ray Tangle, and John Moates, both of Lima, and Joe McDuffee, 42, of Rt. 1, Waynesfield.

The flight had originated in Lima and had made a stopover in Columbus, Ohio, to discharge two other passengers.

State Police said the central air control station in New York had lost radio contact with the craft shortly before the plane fell at 4:10 p. m.

The impact of the crash scattered the bodies and parts of the wreckage over a wide area.

No one was reported to have seen the plane crash, but several persons in the vicinity said they heard the distressed craft overhead.

One man, who was indoors at the time, said he heard the plane's engine sputter and die, as though it had run out of fuel.

"It sounded as though it were coming into the house," he said.

Dairies In Pittsburgh To Raise Milk 1 Cent

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two Pittsburgh dairies say they will raise milk prices by one cent per quart.

Sealtest Foods said its hike becomes effective Jan. 1. Beverly Farms said it has not set a date for the price boost.

Sealtest said Thursday its increase will raise the price of a quart of home delivered milk from 31 to 32 cents, and milk purchased in the store from 28½ to 29½ cents a quart.

Sealtest blamed higher wages, increases in packaging and delivery and higher cost of other material. Other dairies said they were studying the hike.

Dairies do not need the permission of the state Milk Control Commission to raise milk prices. The commission fixes the minimum price.

3 Ohio Men Are Killed In Plane Crash

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Three Ohio men perished Thursday night when their twin-engine Piper Navajo plane crashed into a farm field during a severe snowstorm.

The plane fell on the edge of a pond in Port Penn, outside of Muncy, a North-central Pennsylvania community some 20 miles south of Williamsport. Poor visibility had prevented the craft's landing at Williamsport Airport, its desination.

Killed were the pilot, Ray Tangle, and John Moates, both of Lima, and Joe McDuffee, 42, of Rt. 1, Waynesfield.

The flight had originated in Lima and had made a stopover in Columbus, Ohio, to discharge two other passengers.

State Police said the central air control station in New York had lost radio contact with the craft shortly before the plane fell at 4:10 p. m.

The impact of the crash scattered the bodies and parts of the wreckage over a wide area.

No one was reported to have seen the plane crash, but several persons in the vicinity said they heard the distressed craft overhead.

One man, who was indoors at the time, said he heard the plane's engine sputter and die, as though it had run out of fuel.

"It sounded as though it were coming into the house," he said.

Dairies In Pittsburgh To Raise Milk 1 Cent

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two Pittsburgh dairies say they will raise milk prices by one cent per quart.

Sealtest Foods said its hike becomes effective Jan. 1. Beverly Farms said it has not set a date for the price boost.

Sealtest said Thursday its increase will raise the price of a quart of home delivered milk from 31 to 32 cents, and milk purchased in the store from 28½ to 29½ cents a quart.

Sealtest blamed higher wages, increases in packaging and delivery and higher cost of other material. Other dairies said they were studying the hike.

Dairies do not need the permission of the state Milk Control Commission to raise milk prices. The commission fixes the minimum price.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHEESE

QUESTION: What makes the different kinds of cheese?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Cheese is made from milk, which can be separated into two different substances, the liquid whey and the more solid curd. Lactic acid bacteria, put into the milk, help to start the separation. As the milk starts to ferment, rennet extract is added, the whey and curd separate and the whey is removed. It is the curd which will become cheese, through various processes of salting, pressing and curing. Variations in the cheese-making process account for the different kinds. For example, cottage and cream cheeses are made by using lactic acid cultures to separate the curd, but are not ripened or fermented afterward. Cheddar or American cheese is a ripened variety which has been cured from 60 days to two years. A shorter period makes it smooth and mild, a longer curing gives it a sharp taste. A penicillin mold put in the cheese, called Roquefort, gives the sharp taste and produces dark streaks. A very popular modern kind is processed cheese, made of several kinds ground and blended together. It melts smoothly and is splendid for toasted cheese sandwiches.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Television's Ten Worst Shows

It's awards time for Humphrey's 10th annual 10-worst shows of the 1967 year.

The choices, as usual, are mine alone — no voting, no telecast and no trophies — just the names of the offenders along with some opinionated comment. Here we go:

Hal Humphrey

Worst Situation Comedy: Mr. Terrific (CBS), an asinine comedy take-off on Superman which came on as a "second season" entry in January, and died a too-merciful death as the season ended. Runnersup in this category — ABC's Rango (also canceled) and CBS' Good Morning World (still hanging in there on Tuesday nights).

Worst Adventure Series: filmed in India at great expense, but the producers forgot to budget enough for the writers, so that even Jay (Dennis the Menace) North and a lovable elephant couldn't make anything out of it except a poor imitation of a Disney show. It goes off the air in February.

Worst Documentary: "Do Blondes Have More Fun?" (ABC) was brought on the air last August as a kind of semi-fun look at blondes. Unfortunately it was sponsored by Clairol and by the time the commercials were woven into the hour a viewer had trouble telling which part was plug and which part show. Cartoonist Al Capp couldn't save it with his not-so-good commentary either.

Worst Single Performance: Sen. Everett Dirksen's appearance on ABC's Hollywood Palace to read selections from his record album. If the senator had been doing a take-off of W. C. Fields doing a medicine man pitch, he'd have been perfect. Unfortunately, he was playing himself.

Worst Commercial: Ban and Right Guard deodorants ran a dead heat here, so two awards are hereby bestowed. Ban's series with the fellow saying to the girl, "YOU hope it works!" and the husband who runs off with the Right Guard and leaves his family defenseless, are about as silly and tasteless as Madison Avenue has come up with in quite a spell.

Worst Musical-Drama: "I'm Getting Married" on ABC's Stage 67 series last March starred Anne Bancroft and Dick Shawn, and was written by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, all fine talents who went wrong in this supposed comedy about a couple experiencing pre-marital doubts about each other. Jule Styne, another highly rated talent, bogged the whole thing down further with his listless musical score.

Worst Western Series: Guns of Will Sonnett (ABC) turns out to be the epitome of Western fantasy when the producers palm off the 73-year-old Walter Brennan as the fastest gun in the West. It's all done with a straight face by everyone involved, too. Dundee and the Culhane (CBS), Custer (ABC) and High Chaparral (NBC) all deserve honorable mention in this category.

Worst Musical-Variety Special: The Dick Van Dyke special stands out because the man is a talented entertainer who in this case extended his efforts beyond that talent. In practically a one-man show he tried everything from a dramatic song rendition of "If I Were a Rich Man" to playing the harpsichord and leading a dance production number.

Worst Game Show: Newlywed Game (ABC) has the newly marrieds in a guessing game involving each other. Sillier than most parlor games, and on prime-time TV, too.

Worst Network Movie: "Fluffy" (NBC's Tuesday Night at the Movies), a so-called comedy (1964) starring Tony Randall and Shirley Jones. He's a biologist with a lion for a house pet as one of his experiments. It was on the air Dec. 12, which was recent enough to still leave a bad taste in one's mouth.

Hickenlooper's Retirement Sets Contest Stage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The retirement of Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, has opened the door for a contest between State Sen. David M. Stanley and former Rep. James E. Bromwell for the Republican nomination for senator in the Sept. 3 primary election.

The winner will be matched against Democratic Gov. Harold Hughes in the Nov. 5 general election. The popular three-term governor is virtually assured of the Democratic nomination and will probably be unopposed in his party primary.

Hickenlooper, 71, announced Thursday he won't seek a fifth term because he would not mount a "vigorous and extensive campaign."

Bromwell, a Cedar Rapids Republican, immediately announced his own candidacy for the GOP nomination. Stanley, 39, a Muscatine lawyer, has been working full time for the nomination since August in a well-financed and carefully planned campaign.

School Districts Receive Funds

The East Liverpool school district received $115,228 as its share of the December distribution of foundation funds, with $98,480 being paid directly to the district.

The remainder is paid to the employes and teachers' retirement systems. State Auditor Roger Cloud said the grand total of subsidy payments to school districts in Columbiana County was $515,210.

The amount paid directly to other districts included Wellsville, $38,680; East Palestine, $40,604; Salem, $48,998; Columbiana, $22,880; Leetonia, $22,819; Lisbon $34,927; Beaver Local, $55,958; Fairfield - Waterford, $17,177; Southern Local, $27,004, and United Local $27,448.

The direct subsidy payment to the Columbiana County Board of Education was $4,556. Four other districts pay a share to the county board.

Districts in Jefferson County shared a total of $317,979. Toronto received $11,363; Buckeye Local, $57,186, and Edison Local, $84,487.

The United States never ratified the Versailles Treaty; the Senate refused to give its consent. Instead, the United States made a separate treaty of peace with Germany in 1921..

Closing For Good On Saturday

By JUDY PRUSNEK
Associated Press Writer

PARADISE, Ky. (AP) — Paradise is closing down for good Saturday.

And if you ask Mrs. Carlos Smith why, she'll tell you she reckons the devil had a hand in it.

Saturday's the deadline the Tennessee Valley Authority has given the Smiths and two other families still living in the small Muhlenberg County community to move out.

The 40-odd acres, purchased plot by plot by the TVA this past year, are earmarked for a coal stockpile and future expansion of TVA's mammoth steam-electric plant nearby.

When completed, the plant will be the largest of its kind in the world. And few will remember what it was like in Paradise.

Some 800 persons had lived in the southern Kentucky spot long before the sand-like fallout from the plant's towering smokestacks began making life intolerable.

Some married into Paradise. Some were born there. Some came to retire along the quiet banks of the Green River. J.H. Buchanan, 66, was postmaster there for 28 years and had owned its only general store.

"Had a lot of good conversation in Paradise," he reminisced at his new home in Greenville. "Guess there wasn't too much I didn't know about the place."

Buchanan closed up the post office and sold out Thanksgiving before moving on. He alone knows how the community got its name.

"Oldtimers used to tell my grandpappy about a family comin' up the river on a flat boat one day," he says. "They had a real sick baby. Thought he was gonna die sure.

"So they tied up next to shore that night and prayed. Next mornin', the boy woke up well. 'Father said, 'This must be Paradise,' and they decided to stay."

Now, 170 years later, a December wind moans through the deserted streets.

Past the home of J. Hogg, 63, a retired widower. Hogg is moving his house 11 miles down river off Route 70.

"The place is no town yet. It's buildin'," he says. "But I'm not takin' my heart with me."

Past the home of Mrs. Smith, 69, where her elderly husband lies bedridden, blind and deaf.

"Lived here 50 years. Raised five sons," she says. "We aren't movin' far. The devil's behind all this movin' anyways. I know it. I know it."

Past the home of the two widows who've shut their doors to outsiders so long they remain nameless, even to Buchanan.

For on Saturday, Paradise will belong to the wind.

Scientists Present Conclusions

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists today presented findings from new studies of human sexual behavior, listing among general conclusions:

—There has been "no sexual revolution" strictly speaking, rather more a continuation of long existing trends.

—College coeds continue to equate their first sexual intercourse with love, whereas men continue to be opportunistic.

—There is a definite trend, especially among young women, for the first sexual intercourse to be a pleasureable event.

—Newer contraceptive devices do NOT seem to have prompted any rise in the percentage of women having intercourse before marriage.

—Use of birth control devices doesn't seem to lead to increased sexual activity so much as to increased enjoyment.

The scientists addressed session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, director of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University founded by the late Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, described first results from a 1967 survey among nearly 1,200 men and women, in colleges across the nation, compared with findings from similar questioning of about as many college students in the 1940's and early 1950's—a generation or nearly so ago.

So far, he said, "all this sounds like a continuation of the trend toward sexual equality with the female being regarded both by males and by herself as less a sexual object to be exploited, and more as a fellow human with her own needs, expectations, and rights."

The 1967 study was conducted under direction of Dr. William Simon of the Institute at Bloomington, Ind.

Compared with a generation ago, Dr. Gebhard said, "It is clear that the enormous difference between how males and females view their initial partner has changed very little. In brief, females surrender their virginity to males they love, whereas males are much less emotionally involved."

For college coeds now at their first experience, "love was involved in 70 to 90 per cent of cases'—similar to the earlier findings.

Among males, 11 to 14 per cent in the new study said they first had intercourse with girls they intended to marry. This compared with only one to five per cent—in various college years—who so reported in the earlier surveys.

Young men now rarely have their first experience with prostitutes—only two to seven per cent in the new study compared with 20 to 25 per cent previously.

English name of the Cherokee Indian, Sequoya, was George Guess, which was from his father's name, Gist.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Television's Ten Worst Shows

It's awards time for Humphrey's 10th annual 10-worst shows of the 1967 year.

The choices, as usual, are mine alone — no voting, no telecast and no trophies — just the names of the offenders along with some opinionated comment. Here we go:

Hal Humphrey

Worst Situation Comedy: Mr. Terrific (CBS), an asinine comedy take-off on Superman which came on as a "second season" entry in January, and died a too-merciful death as the season ended. Runnersup in this category — ABC's Rango (also canceled) and CBS' Good Morning World (still hanging in there on Tuesday nights).

Worst Adventure Series: filmed in India at great expense, but the producers forgot to budget enough for the writers, so that even Jay (Dennis the Menace) North and a lovable elephant couldn't make anything out of it except a poor imitation of a Disney show. It goes off the air in February.

Worst Documentary: "Do Blondes Have More Fun?" (ABC) was brought on the air last August as a kind of semi-fun look at blondes. Unfortunately it was sponsored by Clairol and by the time the commercials were woven into the hour a viewer had trouble telling which part was plug and which part show. Cartoonist Al Capp couldn't save it with his not-so-good commentary either.

Worst Single Performance: Sen. Everett Dirksen's appearance on ABC's Hollywood Palace to read selections from his record album. If the senator had been doing a take-off of W. C. Fields doing a medicine man pitch, he'd have been perfect. Unfortunately, he was playing himself.

Worst Commercial: Ban and Right Guard deodorants ran a dead heat here, so two awards are hereby bestowed. Ban's series with the fellow saying to the girl, "YOU hope it works!" and the husband who runs off with the Right Guard and leaves his family defenseless, are about as silly and tasteless as Madison Avenue has come up with in quite a spell.

Worst Musical-Drama: "I'm Getting Married" on ABC's Stage 67 series last March starred Anne Bancroft and Dick Shawn, and was written by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, all fine talents who went wrong in this supposed comedy about a couple experiencing pre-marital doubts about each other. Jule Styne, another highly rated talent, bogged the whole thing down further with his listless musical score.

Worst Western Series: Guns of Will Sonnett (ABC) turns out to be the epitome of Western fantasy when the producers palm off the 73-year-old Walter Brennan as the fastest gun in the West. It's all done with a straight face by everyone involved, too. Dundee and the Culhane (CBS), Custer (ABC) and High Chaparral (NBC) all deserve honorable mention in this category.

Worst Musical-Variety Special: The Dick Van Dyke special stands out because the man is a talented entertainer who in this case extended his efforts beyond that talent. In practically a one-man show he tried everything from a dramatic song rendition of "If I Were a Rich Man" to playing the harpsichord and leading a dance production number.

Worst Game Show: Newlywed Game (ABC) has the newly marrieds in a guessing game involving each other. Sillier than most parlor games, and on prime-time TV, too.

Worst Network Movie: "Fluffy" (NBC's Tuesday Night at the Movies), a so-called comedy (1964) starring Tony Randall and Shirley Jones. He's a biologist with a lion for a house pet as one of his experiments. It was on the air Dec. 12, which was recent enough to still leave a bad taste in one's mouth.

Hickenlooper's Retirement Sets Contest Stage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The retirement of Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, has opened the door for a contest between State Sen. David M. Stanley and former Rep. James E. Bromwell for the Republican nomination for senator in the Sept. 3 primary election.

The winner will be matched against Democratic Gov. Harold Hughes in the Nov. 5 general election. The popular three-term governor is virtually assured of the Democratic nomination and will probably be unopposed in his party primary.

Hickenlooper, 71, announced Thursday he won't seek a fifth term because he would not mount a "vigorous and extensive campaign."

Bromwell, a Cedar Rapids Republican, immediately announced his own candidacy for the GOP nomination. Stanley, 39, a Muscatine lawyer, has been working full time for the nomination since August in a well-financed and carefully planned campaign.

School Districts Receive Funds

The East Liverpool school district received $115,228 as its share of the December distribution of foundation funds, with $98,480 being paid directly to the district.

The remainder is paid to the employes and teachers' retirement systems. State Auditor Roger Cloud said the grand total of subsidy payments to school districts in Columbiana County was $515,210.

The amount paid directly to other districts included Wellsville, $38,680; East Palestine, $40,604; Salem, $48,998; Columbiana, $22,880; Leetonia, $22,819; Lisbon $34,927; Beaver Local, $55,958; Fairfield - Waterford, $17,177; Southern Local, $27,004, and United Local $27,448.

The direct subsidy payment to the Columbiana County Board of Education was $4,556. Four other districts pay a share to the county board.

Districts in Jefferson County shared a total of $317,979. Toronto received $11,363; Buckeye Local, $57,186, and Edison Local, $84,487.

The United States never ratified the Versailles Treaty; the Senate refused to give its consent. Instead, the United States made a separate treaty of peace with Germany in 1921..

Closing For Good On Saturday

By JUDY PRUSNEK
Associated Press Writer

PARADISE, Ky. (AP) — Paradise is closing down for good Saturday.

And if you ask Mrs. Carlos Smith why, she'll tell you she reckons the devil had a hand in it.

Saturday's the deadline the Tennessee Valley Authority has given the Smiths and two other families still living in the small Muhlenberg County community to move out.

The 40-odd acres, purchased plot by plot by the TVA this past year, are earmarked for a coal stockpile and future expansion of TVA's mammoth steam-electric plant nearby.

When completed, the plant will be the largest of its kind in the world. And few will remember what it was like in Paradise.

Some 800 persons had lived in the southern Kentucky spot long before the sand-like fallout from the plant's towering smokestacks began making life intolerable.

Some married into Paradise. Some were born there. Some came to retire along the quiet banks of the Green River. J.H. Buchanan, 66, was postmaster there for 28 years and had owned its only general store.

"Had a lot of good conversation in Paradise," he reminisced at his new home in Greenville. "Guess there wasn't too much I didn't know about the place."

Buchanan closed up the post office and sold out Thanksgiving before moving on. He alone knows how the community got its name.

"Oldtimers used to tell my grandpappy about a family comin' up the river on a flat boat one day," he says. "They had a real sick baby. Thought he was gonna die sure.

"So they tied up next to shore that night and prayed. Next mornin', the boy woke up well. 'Father said, 'This must be Paradise,' and they decided to stay."

Now, 170 years later, a December wind moans through the deserted streets.

Past the home of J. Hogg, 63, a retired widower. Hogg is moving his house 11 miles down river off Route 70.

"The place is no town yet. It's buildin'," he says. "But I'm not takin' my heart with me."

Past the home of Mrs. Smith, 69, where her elderly husband lies bedridden, blind and deaf.

"Lived here 50 years. Raised five sons," she says. "We aren't movin' far. The devil's behind all this movin' anyways. I know it. I know it."

Past the home of the two widows who've shut their doors to outsiders so long they remain nameless, even to Buchanan.

For on Saturday, Paradise will belong to the wind.

Scientists Present Conclusions

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists today presented findings from new studies of human sexual behavior, listing among general conclusions:

—There has been "no sexual revolution" strictly speaking, rather more a continuation of long existing trends.

—College coeds continue to equate their first sexual intercourse with love, whereas men continue to be opportunistic.

—There is a definite trend, especially among young women, for the first sexual intercourse to be a pleasureable event.

—Newer contraceptive devices do NOT seem to have prompted any rise in the percentage of women having intercourse before marriage.

—Use of birth control devices doesn't seem to lead to increased sexual activity so much as to increased enjoyment.

The scientists addressed session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, director of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University founded by the late Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, described first results from a 1967 survey among nearly 1,200 men and women, in colleges across the nation, compared with findings from similar questioning of about as many college students in the 1940's and early 1950's—a generation or nearly so ago.

So far, he said, "all this sounds like a continuation of the trend toward sexual equality with the female being regarded both by males and by herself as less a sexual object to be exploited, and more as a fellow human with her own needs, expectations, and rights."

The 1967 study was conducted under direction of Dr. William Simon of the Institute at Bloomington, Ind.

Compared with a generation ago, Dr. Gebhard said, "It is clear that the enormous difference between how males and females view their initial partner has changed very little. In brief, females surrender their virginity to males they love, whereas males are much less emotionally involved."

For college coeds now at their first experience, "love was involved in 70 to 90 per cent of cases'—similar to the earlier findings.

Among males, 11 to 14 per cent in the new study said they first had intercourse with girls they intended to marry. This compared with only one to five per cent—in various college years—who so reported in the earlier surveys.

Young men now rarely have their first experience with prostitutes—only two to seven per cent in the new study compared with 20 to 25 per cent previously.

English name of the Cherokee Indian, Sequoya, was George Guess, which was from his father's name, Gist.
